AMERICANS ABOARD ARMENIAN LOST U. S. PROTECTION

STEAMER SOUGHT TO ESCAPE SUBMARINE

Reports Indicate German Naval Commander Was Clearly Within Rights in Sinking Big Freighter

Washington, July 1.—Secretary Lansing announced today that until more complete reports had been received from Ambassador Page on the torpedoing of the Armenian, in which several Americans lost their lives Monday, the United States would take no action.

Latest news dispatches from Avonmouth, detailing how the Armenian made efforts to escape after being ordered to stop, caused officials to believe the sinking of the vessel was accomplished in accordance with international law and that the United States might have no reason to take up the subject with Germany, except to verify through the admiralty at Berlin the details of the Armenian's reported resistance.

Under the rules of international law, it was pointed out, that the Armenian, which flew the British flag, as well as any neutral vessel, could be sunk for refusing to obey a warning to halt and submit to visit and search or capture.

Americans Lose Protection.

Americans aboard such a ship lose protection of their government when the vessel offers resistance.

Ambassador Page reported that the Armenian was engaged in "admiralty business," but the question of how far the vessel was under the control of the British government by charter or otherwise seemed to be overshadowed, in the minds of officials here, by the reported resistance to capture.

There was a relaxation of tension in official quarters by the news that the Armenian apparently was resisting capture for what seemed to loom up as a possible complication in the pending negotiations over submarine warfare with Germany appeared to be removed. The report that the German commander had come to the surface and hailed the Armenian was regarded as indicating an intention to visit and search even enemy ships, a principle for which the United States has been contending.

May Have New Orders.

It was suggested in some quarters that the German submarine commanders now have new orders requiring them not to torpedo any ships without warning. No cases have been reported of attack without warning in the last few weeks. The law on the question of charter is not clear, but officials indicated it would not be a violation of American neutrality laws for an unarmed transport carrying a cargo of munitions or supplies for a belligerent government to sail from the United States and that it never had been definitely determined whether belligerent cruisers on encountering such a vessel were to treat it as a ship of war or a defenseless merchantman.

Officials of the steamship company have stated that the Armenian was not under charter to the British admiralty, but was sailing merely as a merchantman carrying contraband.

Where Case Hinges.

Officials attached most importance to the actions of the Armenian at the time she was encountered by the German submarine. If the vessel, attempting to escape, failed to heed a warning shot from the submarine, not only the vessel, but the crew would be subject to the risks of a subsequent attack.

The position of the United States has been that citizens engaged in the carrying of contraband, who are on board ships that resist capture or attempt to run a blockade, are not entitled to the protection of the American government. One cablegram to the department spoke of a "second warning" having been fired at the wireless house of the Armenian, which gave rise to the impression that the first shot may have been fired in warning.

Might Parallel Lusitania.

On the other hand if the information which is expected to be received through American consular officers, who will talk with the survivors, proves that the Armenian made no effort to resist capture and was torpedoed without warning and without removing the members of the crew to a place of safety, officials thought the case would be almost parallel with that of the Lusitania.

The United States has contended for the principle that an unarmed and unresisting ship must not be destroyed until passengers and crew have been removed to a place of safety, as provided

SEEKING A CLEAN-UP IN ELECTION FRAUDS

Fourteen More Arrests Are Made Today in Rhode Island Case.

Providence, R. I., July 1.—Fourteen more arrests were made today in the election fraud case, all of today's defendants coming from the town of Coventry. They included Ellery Hudson, state factory inspector and a member of the republican state central committee; State Senator Irving Hudson, Deputy Sheriff Lowell Whitman and James Rathbun, brother of one of the superior court judges. Several of the other defendants are members of the republican town committees. The defendants are charged with having conspired to defraud the United States by corrupt practices at the election last November when a member of congress was chosen.

Senator Hudson is accused of having given to another man on election day $150 to be used for the payment of voters. Factory Inspector Hudson is charged with having met several other defendants prior to election to arrange the spending of money to bribe and corrupt the voters on election day.

TEMPERATURE LOWEST IN SEVERAL YEARS

During the month of June the temperature was the lowest since the establishment of the weather bureau here in 1911, the mean temperature being 64.8 degrees, as compared with 70.9 in 1911; 67.1 in 1912; 70.7 in 1913, and 70.4 in 1914.

The total precipitation was 2.77 inches, which is about an average. The rainfall since 1911 is as follows: 1911, 4.44; 1912, 3.24; 1913, 0.69; 1914, 2.39.

The highest temperature during the month was on June 6 when the mercury registered 84 and the lowest was on June 10 when it registered 43. The greatest rainfall was on June 25 and 29, when on both days the precipitation for twenty-four hours was .58 of an inch.

There were six clear days during the month, twelve partly cloudy and twelve cloudy. The prevailing direction of the wind was northeast, while for June during the past four years the prevailing direction was southwest. This accounts for the unusually low temperature.

300 Killed in Wreck of a Military Train

Laredo, Texas, July 1.—Three hundred Carranza soldiers and their wives and children were killed and several hundred injured in a wreck of a military train near Montemorelos, between Tampico and Monterey, according to an American who arrived here today from the interior. ALLIES WILL SOON STRIKE

Formidable Attack Expected by French Forces in Arras Region.

SUPREME EFFORT IN DARDANELLES NEAR

Austro-German Armies Continue to Drive the Russians Back.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

From the field of war recent reports have indicated comparative inactivity except in northern Galicia and southern Poland where the tide is still with the Teutons and in the Gallipoli peninsula, where the allied forces are apparently making determined attempts to gain important ground in the attack on the Dardanelles.

On the western front the French statement of the day indicates armies of that nation have been chiefly occupied in repulsing German attacks.

Both armies along the Austro-Italian front are displaying more activity, although there is nothing to indicate immediate results of the fighting.

Italians claim a favorable outcome from actions in the Trentino district and the repulse of Austrian attacks along the Isonzo.

The activity of the Austro-German forces in the east indicates a continued purpose to clear the way for an attack on Warsaw.

London, July 1.—(11:50 a. m.)—While the Austro-German armies continue to push the Russians back over the Galician border into their own territory, rumors are rife in London of contemplated offensives by the entente allies.

The French are credited with the intention of making a formidable attack on account of the enormous expenditure of artillery ammunition to the north of Arras, where a persistent bombardment has been kept up for the last fortnight; while the Anglo-French forces on the Gallipoli peninsula are said to be on the point of making a supreme effort to capture the massive hill of Achi Baba, which dominates all the country south of the narrows of the Dardanelles. DR. GEORGE J. STUDER IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Well Known Young Physician Had Long Been in Impaired Health.

Dr. George J. Studer, aged thirty-one and widely known as one of Fort Wayne's most successful young physicians, died shortly after midnight Wednesday night at his home, 1011 Hanna street, following a long illness.

DR. GEORGE J. STUDER.

Nephritis was the cause of death. Dr. Studer first was taken seriously ill three years ago, and although he had been at the point of death several times since, had been able to be about the greater part of the time until very recently.

George J. Studer was born in this city November 22, 1883, and was educated in the St. Mary's Catholic schools, from which he was graduated. He then entered St. Joseph's college and after a course

URGE MASSES TO VIOLENCE

Zapata Officers Accused in Latest Dispatches from Mexico City.

NEAR A STATE OF ANARCHY PREVAILS

Washington Concerned Over Safety of 20,000 Foreigners There.

Washington, July 1.—Officers of the Zapata forces in Mexico City, disregarding orders of the convention government nominally in control there, are charged with inciting the masses to violence in dispatches carried from the Mexican capital June 25 to Vera Cruz by courier and cabled today to the state department.

The insubordination of "some of Zapata's officers" is rendering the situation more acute, according to the dispatches. No prospect of relief for the starving civil population of Mexico City is held out in dispatches. It is declared that until the railroad to Vera Cruz is reopened there can be no abatement of the suffering. The convention officials, it is stated, "claim to have repulsed" the Carranza forces under Gen. Gonzales.

In Remote Suburbs.

Apparently, whatever fighting has taken place around the city has been in the more remote suburbs, at such distance from the residence and business sections that no definite knowledge of the results has come to the foreigners in the city, who probably do not venture into the fighting zone. Today's report was the most recent word from Mexico City from any source. What may have happened in the meantime no one here can conjecture.

There has been no report of the occupation of the city by Carranza troops, although rolling stock at Vera Cruz has been pressed into military service and a large shipment of relief supplies of the American Red Cross for Pachuca has been held up for lack of cars. Reports

BIG RUSH TO PAY THE SPECIAL TAXES

Those Who Failed to Settle Wednesday Will Be Penalized.

The usual last hour rush of income and special taxpayers swooped down on the employes of the United States revenue office Wednesday and poured money into the coffers of the government.

However, the rush was not nearly so heavy as it has been in the past.

"The people are becoming educated to this thing," says Deputy Collector Thomas J. McLaughlin. "They realize that they must pay this income tax and these special taxes, so they come early and pay them. This relieves our office of a great deal of eleventh hour work. Everyone should understand that they will be greatly benefiting us if they would come around before the last half hour to pay these taxes. The tax is small and every honest individual or corporation pays them cheerfully."

Virtually all of the doctors have paid the special taxes and have registered under the drug act. Theaters, saloons, billiard and pool halls, tobacco dealers and other persons who are subject to the special taxes were paying the government at a lively rate, while all week the business has been heavier than usual. Those who did not pay their income tax Wednesday are now delinquent and will be penalized by the government.

BECKER IS GIVEN A TEN-DAYS REPRIEVE

But Governor Whitman Says That is as Far as He Will Go in Case.

Albany, N. Y., July 1.—Gov. Whitman today granted Charles Becker, the former New York police lieutenant under sentence of death, a reprieve until July 26. The governor said that he would take no further action in the case than the granting of the reprieve. This means that if the United States supreme court does not interfere Becker will have to die.

Martin T. Manton, Becker's attorney, who obtained the reprieve, said that an appeal probably would be taken to the United States supreme court. No statement was forthcoming from the executive chamber as to why the reprieve was granted but it was said the governor would make a statement later.

Becker's execution was set for the week beginning July 12, his reprieve therefore is for ten days.

WILL SEEK TO FORCE EVELYN TO TESTIFY

State May Ask Court for Body Writ to Compel Attendance.

New York, July 1.—If Evelyn Nesbit Thaw refuses to obey the subpoena summoning her to testify as a state's witness at the trial to test her husband's sanity, as reported from Malone, N. Y., the attorney general's office will apply to the court for a body writ of attachment to compel her attendance.

This statement was made today at the attorney general's office where the report that Mrs. Thaw had said she would refuse to obey the subpoena served upon her at Chateaugay lake was confirmed. Her excuse that the strain of appearing on the stand would endanger her health will not be considered, it was said, unless put forward in a legal manner.

It was expected that the application for the writ will lead to the taking of formal steps to determine whether Mrs. Thaw's health would in fact be endangered.

Mrs. Gooley's Pastor Relates Fate of Son and Husband.

SURVIVORS DO NOT BELIEVE IT MURDER

Mother and Daughters Are Recovering from Gas and Will Live.

Mrs. Mary Gooley, widow of Matt Gooley, who killed himself and his 14-year-old son, Donald, and tried to wipe out the balance of the family by turning on the gas at his home, 1820 Weisser Park avenue, Tuesday night, has just been told of her bereavement. Mrs. Gooley is much improved and her recovery now is almost certain, but her physician and the nurses at St. Joseph hospital decided to withhold from her the information that her husband and son are dead until she was better able to bear the ordeal, and she was not informed of their deaths until Thursday afternoon, when her pastor, Rev. A. K. Zartman, of Grace Reformed church, broke the news to her.

Hazel Gooley, at St. Joseph's and Loretta Gooley, at Hope hospital, are making rapid progress to complete recovery from the partial and almost fatal asphyxiation by gas that took the lives of father and brother and came near killing themselves and their mother.

GETS POSTPONEMENT IN HUERTA'S CASE

Government Needs More Time to Collect Evidence and Witnesses.

El Paso, Texas, July 1.—The case against Victoriano Huerta, Pasquel Orozco and four others charged with conspiracy to violate the United States neutrality laws, was postponed today to July 12. The defendants were continued under the same bonds.

The postponement was granted on request of attorneys for the prosecution. R. E. Crawford, assistant United States district attorney, stated that the government had been unable to collect and arrange all its evidence or bring important witnesses into court.

Counsel for the defense agreed to the government's request and briefly explained the status to the defendants, who quietly left the court room. This agreement was reached shortly before the hour set for the hearing. The spectators filed out of the court room and the crowd that surrounded the federal building, unable to gain admittance, dispersed rapidly.

For weeks government officials here have been cognizant of activity among refugees on this side of the border. Supplies of machine guns, rifles and ammunition, said to have been assembled in connection with the new government, had been kept under surveillance.

Speculation has been rife along the border as to what affect the arrest of Huerta and his co-defendants would have on the new revolutionary movement.

GERMANS SEEKING TO CLEAR WAY TO WARSAW

London, July 1.—The Russian lines are still being swung back in northern Galicia and southern Poland in an apparent effort by the Teutonic allies to clear the way for a determined move on Warsaw.

The Russians admit a continuation of the enemy offensive between the Bug and the Vieprz. At the junction of the latter river with the Vistula in Poland lies Ivangorod, which Russian observers believe is the immediate objective of the Austro-German forces in this region. Ivangorod is little more than fifty miles southeast from the Polish capital.

Just at present the chief Russian holding power seems to be along the line of the western Bug and the Gnila Lipa in Galicia.

Petrograd also records a repulse of an attempt by the Teutons to cross the Dniester near Halicz, indicating that the line of the Dniester south of that place is still well held by the Grand Duke Nicholas' forces.

A German attack by water on Windau in Courland, on the Baltic just south of the gulf of Riga, was repulsed by the Russians, their official statement says. Five cruisers and many torpedo boats participated in the attack and an attempt is declared to have been made to land troops. One of the torpedo boats was blown up before the fleet retired.

Eyes are being turned toward the Gallipoli peninsula, from which stirring news has recently come, and there are hints from the side of the entente allies that successes just reported are to be followed by still more determined attempts to carry dominating Turkish positions.

The British bark Thistle Bank, which sailed from Bahia Blanca, Argentina, April 26, with a cargo of wheat for Queenstown, was torpedoed by a German submarine yesterday at a point off Fastnet, Ireland. Some of the crew were landed at Baltimore, a small seaport, forty-seven miles southwest of Cork.

The Thistle Bank was a four-masted bark, built at Glasgow in 1891. She was of 2,430 gross tonnage.

Are Sandwiched Together.

A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says:

"Field Marshal von Mackensen's German army, on its northern adventure from Galicia is flanked by Austrian forces under Archduke Joseph Ferdinand and Gen. von Boehm-Ermolli. Everywhere in Galicia German and Austrian troops were sandwiched together, the Austrians within easy reach of German support.

"The first objective of the Teutonic advance between the Vistula and the Bug is Ivangorod by way of Lublin, Brest and Litovsk. A turning movement also is expected east of Brest and Litovsk by way of Kovel."

Ivangorod is at the confluence of the Vistula and the Vieprz. With Nowo Gorgiewsk, Brest and Litovsk it forms an important triangle of the Russian forces in Poland.

CAN'T FIND A SICK BABY IN THE CITY

Opening of Church Milk Depot Has Therefore Been Postponed.

Because not a single case of serious baby sickness in the entire city has been discovered by the board of health, the First Presbyterian church milk depot, which was to have been opened today, will not open till some time later, probably next week.

After an exhaustive effort to locate sick babies who would benefit by the clean milk bottled under sanitary conditions and prepared especially for infants, the board of health and the church board have decided to await more urgent necessity before beginning the distribution this year.

CHINA ANXIOUS TO TANGO AND MAXIXE

New York, July 1.—China may import the maxixe, the tango and the fox trot from America as the result of the visit here of the Chinese industrial commission. The Chinese are willing to take dancing lessons from America, according to G. Geo, an attache of the commission, who is still in the city. Mr. Geo, who is interested in amusement enterprises in China, said that he had been greatly impressed by the American dances.

"There is a fine opening for the installation of dancing classes, dancing clubs and dancing restaurants and roof gardens in China," said Mr. Geo. "Particularly in Shanghai and Peking would there be an excellent opportunity for dancing. The revolution has liberalized China. Chinese women could now patronize the dance halls as freely as their American sisters. Their feet are now unbound and there would be no obstacle to our women learning the dances."

NOT SINGLE RECRUIT ACCEPTED IN JUNE

Since the first of January there have been ninety-four applicants for enlistment in Uncle Sam's navy at the Fort Wayne recruiting station in the federal building, and of this number only a small per cent. was accepted. Only one applicant was accepted during the month of June at the local station and he was rejected at Indianapolis. The United States navy is now 600 below the complement.

In a letter received from Officer Comfort, in charge of the various navy recruiting stations in Indiana by Ensign Flinn, who is in charge of the local office, he writes that at least two recruits should be secured out of Fort Wayne every week. Flinn is planning for an extensive advertising campaign in which he will attempt to portray to the youthful minds of Fort Wayne the many pleasures that are to be derived as one of Uncle Sam's sailors and the splendid opportunity the navy affords to see the world.

DEATH SENTENCE FOR SLAYER OF 3 WIVES

London, July 1.—(3:14 p. m.)—A verdict of guilty was brought in by the jury today in the case of George Joseph Smith, who was charged with the murder of three of his wives.

It had been alleged by the crown that Smith had killed his wives while they were in their baths and had collected insurance money on their lives.

Smith was sentenced to death.

"You will hang me before you're done my lord," was Smith's excited outburst while Justice Scrutton was summing up the case. The prisoner quickly followed this with: "You cannot hang me for murder; I've done no murder. This is a disgrace to a Christian country."

THEY NEED NOT SERVE UNDER FOREIGN FLAG

State Department Rules as to Children of Naturalized Americans.

Washington, July 1.—Children born on American soil, whose parents have become naturalized American citizens, cannot be classed as possessing dual nationality, and are not considered liable to military service under a foreign flag, the state department made clear in a statement issued today.

"While the United States always has recognized," the department says, "the existence of dual nationality in the case of children born in the United States of alien parents or children born in a foreign country of American parents, it does not concede that dual nationality exists in case of a foreign born parent who has acquired naturalization as a United States citizen."

While the state department extends whatever protection it can to persons of dual nationality, who enter the country by which they are claimed, it does not assure them immunity from military service.

"The extent to which this government may go and the arguments it may use and the actual protection of persons born in the United States of alien fathers and who may be molested while temporarily visiting the countries of origin of the latter, necessarily depends on the particular facts and circumstances of each case."

The statement says: "In no case in the absence of conventional arrangements can the state department assure such persons in advance that they will not be held liable under the laws of other countries concerned for the performance of military or other public service attaching to citizenship."

RECEIVER IS ASKED FOR MINUET THEATER

A petition asking that the Minuet Amusement company, operating the Minuet theater on Washington boulevard east, be declared bankrupt and that a receiver be appointed has been filed in the United States court by John O. Brown, the Protective Electrical Supply company and Jacob Klett & Sons.

The petition sets forth that the Minuet Amusement company admitted itself to be insolvent by its answer filed in an action brought by Heywood Brothers and Wakefield company, now pending in the superior court of Allen county.

The petition also alleges that the company is indebted in excess of $3,000, the indebtedness to the petitioners being as follows: John O. Brown, $344.19; Protective Electrical Supply company, $142.88; Jacob Klett & Sons, $400.39. It is alleged that since June 18, 1915, the business of the company has been conducted at a net loss of $100.

REVENUE RECEIPTS HEAVIEST IN YEARS

According to the annual report of E. B. Thumma, deputy revenue collector, the total receipts of his office during the past twelve months amounted to $367,590.57, which is a big increase over last year.

The receipts for the fiscal year from July 1, 1914, to June 30, 1915, are as follows: July, $32,411.47; August, $28,126.93; September, $25,634.25; October, $25,393.27; November $20,480.36; December, $32,475.65; January, $28,177.07; February, $23,965.17; March, $33,027.49; April, $37,593.19; May, $28,293.11; June, $42,015.61.

It will be seen by the above figures that more money was taken in by Collector Thumma during the month of June than during any other month of the year. The figures do not include the collections made by Deputy Collector Thomas J. McLaughlin. Mr. Thumma collects the tax upon tobacco, beer, cigars and all other goods upon which a special assessment is made, while Mr. McLaughlin looks after all the other various taxes, including the income tax.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

FARMER CHARGES SLANDER.

Bluffton, Ind., July 1.—Walter Knupp, a farmer living in Union township, Wells county, today filed suit in the circuit court here against one of his neighbors, William E. Haflich, demanding damages in the sum of $5,000, basing his claim upon an allegation of malicious slander.

The complaint recites that in the barnyard of the plaintiff, in Union township, on Tuesday, June 29th, in the presence of Henry Bower and Delsie Knupp, the defendant Haflich falsely and maliciously spoke concerning the plaintiff, alleging that he would steal.

TO TRY DUBOIS JULY 12.

Bluffton, Ind., July 1.—Judge W. H. Eichhorn has announced that at an adjourned session of the circuit court, July 12th, there will be opportunity for arraignment of Clyde Dubois, the chicken thief, who escaped and was recaptured, and Butler Ambers, charged with stealing chickens from Richard Snow. Grant Comerford, partner of Dubois, after being recaptured, plead guilty and got a prison sentence. Prosecutor Decker has received a letter from Mrs. Mary Monno, of Norwalk, Ohio, asking for information from Dubois, saying she had been unable to get reply to letters she had written to him. "I am his mother and aunt both," she write. She asked if he needs a lawyer.

LONG FIGHT FOR ESTATE ENDS.

Huntington, Ind., July 1.—The long fight waged by Mrs. Florence Van Arsdol, of Fairmount, Ind., to establish her claim to an estate of $15,000 left her by her father, Peter Anderson, was ended last night when Judge S. E. Cook overruled a motion for a new trial demanded by the estate's attorneys. Judge Cook heard additional evidence in the case yesterday but after the arguments had been given, he announced from the bench that Mrs. Van Arsdol is the sole and only heir of the eccentric Peter Anderson, who lived a dual life, and died in a railroad wreck at Marion, O., in 1906.

WHITLEY COUNTY MAN DIES.

Columbia City, Ind., July 1.—Mr. Freemont Harrison, uncle of Charles Harrison, mail clerk in this city, died at his home in Troy township of cancer of the stomach. The deceased was born in Delaware county, Ohio, March 27, 1857; and in 1861 he came with his parents to Troy township, and was the son of William Harrison and wife, deceased. Mr. Harrison was united in marriage first to Miss Wilson and the second marriage was to Laura McCloud, who survives, about twelve years ago. No children were born to this union.

COLUMBIA CITY MAN HURT.

Columbia City, Ind., July 1.—Charles Stough, who lives just at the east edge of town, was badly hurt on Wednesday when a heavy pole or wagon box fell on him, bruising him severely and perhaps injuring him internally. The left side of his face and back of his head were scratched and bleeding, but none of the cuts was of sufficient size to require stitching. The muscles and ligaments on the right side of his neck were torn loose and his right collar bone was broken. He suffered from concussion of the brain and was rendered unconscious from the blow.

HELEN UMPHRESS AT HOME.

Huntington, Ind., July 1.—Helen Umphress was brought to Huntington from the Marion county hospital yesterday in Dr. J. M. Hick's automobile. She has almost completely recovered from injuries sustained in the accident at Leonard's crossing in which her father was killed and four others injured. She suffered a concussion of the brain, and her eyes are still affected somewhat by pressure on the brain, but this will disappear before long, the physicians believe.

BABE DIES IN HER ARMS.

Albion, Ind., July 1.—While carrying her two months old babe in her arms yesterday, Mrs. Albert Dolan, of this place, noticed that the child was acting very peculiar and in a short time lay as if dead. She summoned a neighbor who, upon examination, discovered the child was dead. Coroner L. E. Berhalter, of Kendallville, was summoned and held an inquest. The child had not been ill. Its death so suddenly proved a severe shock to the mother. Death was the result of heart trouble.

NEW TRUSTEE IS NAMED.

Lagrange, Ind., July 1.—Owing to his inability to perform the duties of the office because of failing health, I. N. Smith sent in his resignation as trustee of Clearspring township to the county commissioners at their special called session. The board accepted the resignation and elected Charles Russell, a near neighbor of Mr. Smith, to fill the vacancy. Mr. Russell received two votes while one vote, that of Commissioner Nelson, who is a republican, who cast for Paul Sigler. Mr. Russell immediately filed his bond of $10,000.

MODEL MODERN FARM HOME.

Lagrange, Ind., July 1.—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Feller, two miles west of town, are now domiciled in their new farm residence, which is certainly a model in the way of modern conveniences. There are many fine, modern farm homes in Lagrange county, but it is doubtful whether any surpass the Feller residence in this respect. It is lighted by electricity, heated by furnace, has hard and soft water, both warm and cold, on every floor, which is pumped by power and supplied from air pressure tanks in the basement. It has a perfect system of sewerage, has both phones in the house and surpasses any modern residence in Lagrange in the fact that Uncle Sam delivers the mail daily at their door. The garage, barn and cow stable are also lighted by electricity.

TELLS OF CUSTER MASSACRE.

Montpelier, Ind., July 1.—"Dad" Wilder, of this city, has an interesting story to tell of the massacre of Custer and men which occurred thirty-nine years ago last Friday. Mr. Wilder states that the way the Indians knew that the scouts were coming was that a box of crackers was lost and found by an Indian who realized that the troops were going on march because they were stocked with provisions. Mr. Wilder has in his possession one of the guns used by Custer's men. It is an old Springfield musket. It was picked up on the battle ground one year after the fight, in a very rusty condition, but has been cleaned by its owner until it is in firing condition today. Mr. Wilder treasures the gun highly.

WHITE PLAGUE TAKES CHILD.

Decatur, Ind., July 1.—Doris Helen Reber, little daughter of Mr. Earl Reber, of Kirkland township, died at the parental home. The little girl was 4 years, 1 month and 9 days old. She had been sick for about four months with consumption, from which disease the mother died only last March. It is thought that her association with her mother may have caused her sickness. She is survived by the father and one sister, Celia Esther Reber.

ROBBERY AT SEDAN.

Auburn, Ind., July 1.—Breaking in a panel in a back door thieves entered the W. H. Crane general store at Sedan, one of the oldest stores in DeKalb county, and helped themselves to money, bread, cookies, tobacco and notions. They made a clean getaway. An inventory Wednesday morning showed that about ten dollars' worth of goods were taken, including about two dollars in pennies, the only money left at the store.

RACE ENTRIES ARE CLOSING.

Montpelier, Ind., July 1.—The entries for the horse races to be held here by the firemen next Monday, will close Saturday. Hal Kelley has charge of the races. A small purse will be made up by the drivers themselves and they will race for that. There will also be motorcycle and bicycle races. The preparations for the auto parade have been completed and the fireworks for the celebration have been purchased.

BLUFFTON WILL CELEBRATE.

Bluffton, Ind., July 1.—Bluffton will celebrate July Fourth with an afternoon and evening program at the West Side park, on Monday. There will be a ball game between local teams and other athletic events in the afternoon, and a picnic is planned at the supper hour, with music, drills and fireworks at night.

WELLS TO AID BELGIUM.

Bluffton, Ind., July 1.—At a meeting tonight a movement was started to have Wells county aid in raising contributions in the way of provisions for the Belgians. It is proposed to raise a carload of wheat in Wells county, toward a ship load of wheat to be sent to Belgium.

Signature of Every Freeholder Invited

A prominent real estate man declared at the weekly meeting of the exchange, held at the Commercial club Tuesday, that many persons are under the impression that only those owning property in the lower sections of the city are asked to sign the flood prevention petitions. He said that such had been his belief and for that reason he did not attach his signature to the petition. When otherwise advised he indicated his intention of signing immediately, declaring that although his property is located in a part of the city that never has been visited by flood water, he is willing to bear his portion of expense necessary to protect the community from floods.

It is vitally important that the people understand that the signature of every free holder residing in the proposed flood district, which comprises the entire city of Fort Wayne and practically all of the county, is desired. It matters not whether the free holder resides in localities most accessible to flood waters or not, his signature will count as much as will that of the person whose property abuts the river bank. But while his signature will count as much in authorizing the establishment of a flood prevention district, it is obvious that his assessment will be much less when the work is done and means is provided for paying for the improvement. Many persons who until recently have opposed the movement have rallied to its support. Everybody is invited to become a booster for a greater, healthier and safer community by signing the flood prevention petitions.

DON'T BURN HAIRS OFF DISSOLVE THEM

Burning hairs off with pastes and powders is as bad as shaving them off—it only strengthens the roots and they come in thicker than ever. The only safe and sure way to get rid of unsightly hairs is to dissolve them—then you destroy the roots entirely. To do this get an ounce of simple sulfo solution from your druggist; apply with finger tips, keeping the hairs moist. In a few minutes they will be dissolved and disappear entirely. Wash with warm water and you will find the skin soft and smooth as velvet.

EVEN THE PREACHERS GET HURT

All Are Subject to Accident.

THE SEEMINGLY quiet, tranquil life of the minister of the gospel would appear to make him immune to the violent accidents which befall the rest of us.

It isn't so.

A short time ago mention was made in these columns of severe accidents sustained by Rev. H. A. Wingard, of Mitchell, Ind.; Rev. N. A. Linneweber, of Evansville, Ind., and Rev. N. P. Pastorius, of Delphi, Ind., all of whom were fortunate enough to hold accidents insurance in the Fort Wayne Mercantile Accident Association, and to this may be added a number of other pastors who have been hurt during the past few months and to whom the Fort Wayne Mercantile Accident Association has paid indemnities.

Rev. Ray A. Ragsdale, of Bicknell, Ind., fell from a high step-ladder and sustained injuries which entitled him to an indemnity of $375.

Rev. Dr. Frederick Watson Hart, of Indianapolis, slipped and fell on a sidewalk, with serious results.

Rev. L. L. Hensen, of Pueblo, Col., formerly of Fort Wayne, received $150 as a result of injuries sustained by a fall.

Rev. W. A. Waldo, of Paterson, N. J., was badly injured at Muncie, Ind., during a Sunday school picnic.

Rev. H. S. Morrison, of Rugby, N. D., had an arm broken while "cranking" his automobile.

Whether you are a minister or not, you need accident insurance. Call the Mercantile—2488—and get the best protection for the lowest cost. Why not do it today?

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Genesis 32:1-13.

1 And Jacob went on his way, and the angels of God met him.

2 And when Jacob saw them, he said, This is God's host; and he called the name of that place Mahanaim.

3 And Jacob sent messengers before him to Esau his brother unto the land of Seir, the country of Edom.

4 And he commanded them, saying, Thus shall ye speak unto my lord Esau; Thy servant Jacob saith thus, I have sojourned with Laban, and stayed there until now;

5 And I have oxen, and asses, flocks, and menservants, and womenservants; and I have sent to tell my lord, that I may find grace in thy sight.

6 And the messengers returned to Jacob, saying, We came to thy brother Esau, and, also he cometh to meet thee, and four hundred men with him.

7 Then Jacob was greatly afraid and distressed: and he divided the people that was with him, and the flocks, and herds, and the camels, into two bands;

8 And said, if Esau come to the one company, and smite it, then the other company which is left shall escape.

9 And Jacob said, O God of my father Abraham, and God of my father Isaac, the Lord which saidst unto me, Return unto thy country, and to thy kindred, and I will deal well with thee;

10 I am not worthy of the least of all the mercies, and of all the truth, which thou hast showed unto thy servant; for with my staff I passed over this Jordan; and now I am become two bands.

11 Deliver me, I pray thee, from the hand of my brother, from the hand of Esau; for I fear him, lest he will come and smite me, and the mother with children.

12 And thou saidst, I will surely do thee good, and make thy seed as the sand of the sea, which cannot be numbered for multitude.

13 And he lodged there that same night; and took of that which came to his hand a present for Esau his brother;

The Shelbyville Disorder

Fifteen men have been placed under arrest at Shelbyville on the rather uncommon charge of rout, which, we take it, narrowly misses the more familiar charge of rioting. A resort to the dictionary discloses that in a legal sense the rout is "a disturbance of the peace by persons assembled together to do a thing which, if executed, would make them rioters, and actually making a motion toward the execution thereof."

The trouble followed the attempt to arrest a Noblesville citizen on charges of profanity, and accounts say that a crowd of friends of the accused man surrounded the police officer, handled him roughly and attempted to hamper him in the discharge of his sworn duty, while halting short of what might be termed actual violence. It was apparently demonstrative threat rather than actual physical performance that constituted offense in the case, and yet it is difficult to draw a line of distinction between the rout and the riot so far as either its intent or its moral consequence is concerned. The accused men are seeking bond for a hearing which has been deferred to July 8 in the mayor's court at Noblesville.

The only phases of the case that is of more than local interest is the presence of the mob spirit that has happily never been frequent and never popular in Indiana. In a state that has an unusually fine record for orderliness and peaceful compliance with law, demonstrations like that at Shelbyville in which a crowd of near-rioters attempt to intervene against the performance of duty by officers of the law call for prompt and effective redress. Whether the offense consisted of rout or riot, it is important that those who may be found guilty be made to understand that that sort of thing is not in good odor in Indiana.

Extended moralizing on the case of Matt Gooley is quite unnecessary. The tragic emphasis of the case must strike home to every thinking person. Evidence all points definitely to the fact that, liquor-crazed after a protracted debauch, the man deliberately set about to take not only his own life, but to wipe out the wife and children who after all had been the chief sufferers from the father's indulgence in drink. It is apparently never difficult for a man of this character to obtain liquor. Somebody conscienceless enough to supply it in defiance of both law and common decency and humanity is always to be found. And about how many hundreds of "dry" votes do you suppose have been recruited in Fort Wayne as a result of the Weisser Park avenue tragedy?

Nine Indiana cities which are still enjoying the use of natural gas supplied from the West Virginia field have consented to an advance in gas rates upon the showing of the company which supplies it that it is doing business at a loss. Without becoming too specific, we think we could name still other Indiana cities that would not be inclined to quibble so strenuously over the question of rates if they were yet able to secure the abundance of natural gas which they once wasted in the most shamelessly profligate fashion.

The weather bureau has already sent out a prediction of fair skies generally over the country for the Fourth of July holiday next Monday. It is to be observed, also, that the prediction is sent out in ample time to permit of a revision of the forecast if unexpected developments seem to make it worth while. The weather man is always a diplomatic chap.

An Evansville business man was fined $1 and costs in the city court for spanking his sixteen-year-old daughter because she went to a skating rink with a beau in defiance of the fact that he had forbidden her to do so. The court's ruling is not, however, to be construed as a ruling that a good many of the sixteen-year-olds do not richly merit the spanking.

The American people are most cordial in their well-wishes for James M. Thompson and his bride, who is the accomplished daughter of Speaker Clark, but they may be excused for breathing a sigh of relief now that the wedding is over. The public made as much fuss over the nuptial event at Honey Shuck as over launching a battleship.

Of course it was to have been expected that new methods in warfare would develop at least one new disease, and it has arrived. "War shock" is what the doctors call it, but as a matter of fact the volunteers of 1861-1865 doubtless experienced much the same thing but without the rather impressive title that now distinguishes it.

THE AGE OF CAPACITY.

(Pittsburgh Dispatch.)

It may well be believed that Dr. Lowell, president of Harvard university, spoke reasonably exact truth when, as a scientist, he stated in his baccalaureate address that man's physical maximum is reached at about twenty years of age, and his mental maximum at about twenty-five, for this harmonizes with unprofessional observation. But he is not understood as meaning that capacity to endure, and to learn and achieve, reaches its maximum at the times stated.

Experience and education may and do enable one to accomplish more intellectually at the age of forty, fifty or sixty than at twenty-five, but, according to Dr. Lowell, his actual capacity is not then greater than at twenty-five. He may not accomplish as much at twenty-five as he will at sixty, or seventy, or even a later period, because he does not know as much. After twenty-five it is not a question of capacity, but of knowledge and experience added to a capacity that is no longer susceptible of further development.

There is a great deal more satisfaction in this theory to men of accumulating years, than the statement of Dr. Osler, that sixty is the practical limit of usefulness, after which comparatively few men, in his judgment, so far as service is concerned, are of much account. But this is disproved by the vast number of sexagenarians who are doing their daily stunts just as effectively and satisfactorily as men anywhere below that age.

Dr. Lowell does not fix any limit to efficiency and achievement within the reach of capacities that attain their fullest physical and mental development at the ages stated. In other words, about the time a young men is graduated from Harvard he is as fit mentally as he ever will be to cope with the obstacles of life. It is the training he gets there that equips him best to carry forward the purpose of his future. But he inevitably meets many capable men of little school training who are his equals and often his betters in the qualities of mind that lend to achievement.

HEAT VALUE OF COAL.

(Dayton Daily News.)

The United States government was a little slower than many of our manufacturing concerns in learning to buy coal by heat units rather than by gross weight. But it finally caught on, with the result that a saving of some two hundred thousand dollars was effected last year. It is now out with a belated bulletin to the effect that that is the proper way to purchase fuel.

Pigs may be pigs, as the humorist declared some years ago in his entertaining little story of the expressman and the guinea pigs, but coal isn't coal; some of it isn't, at any rate. And any fuel is valuable only to the extent that it produces heat. So it was not strange that in these days of competition men should have employed chemists to determine the number of heat units in a given amount of fuel, and to pay for the mass upon the basis of the heat value rather than according to its weight. When the householder learns to do the same thing, and when the coal dealers show the consumer the advantage of doing so, it will be better for all concerned.

WORK DONE BY COUNTY AGENT

C. Henry Makes First Annual Report to Purdue University.

HAS ATTENDED 172 MEETINGS

Much Good Has Been Accomplished During the First Year.

Clarence Henry, county agricultural agent, Thursday sent to the extension department of Purdue university, his first annual report showing the work that has been accomplished in Allen county, from September 1, 1914, to June 30, 1915. The report in full is as follows:

Teachers' Institutes.

My first week in the county was spent at the annual Allen county teachers' institute. I addressed that body on two occasions. The following week I addressed each of the four preliminary institutes. Three sectional institutes were addressed during the winter. Attendance at these nine meetings, 1,230.

Farmers' Institutes.

Ten farmers' institutes were held in the county during January and February. I attended and addressed all but one of these, which unavoidable circumstances prevented me from attending. At these meetings I talked on the following subjects: Opportunities in Live Stock (3); Beef Production Costs (1); Building Up the Dairy Herd (2); Corn Production (1); Care and Feeding of Hogs (3); Good Roads (1).

In addition to the work in this county I addressed the Jackson township farmers' institute, Huntington county, held at Roanoke, on the duties of a county agent.

I was fortunate in securing George V. Kell, Allen county's pioneer alfalfa grower, for eight of our ten institutes. Much of the interest in alfalfa in our county is due to the efforts of Mr. Kell. Attendance at institute meetings addressed, 2,330.

Community Organizations.

Adams, Jefferson, Washington, St. Joseph, Perry, Maumee, Madison, Scipio, Wayne, Lake and Aboite townships have active farmers' clubs. Of these, five were organized through my efforts. Regular meetings were held last winter in four other communities, which are now ready for organization.

Boys' and Girls' Club Work.

Four boys' and girls' clubs have been organized in the county. Poultry club, pig club, corn club and bread-baking clubs. The last named was organized by Miss Lella Geddis, of Purdue university, and its membership is confined to the New Haven high school. In organizing these clubs thirty-seven schools were visited and over 200 letters written.

Purdue Short Course.

Heretofore the attendance from Allen county at the annual farmers' short course at Purdue university has been from two to four persons. Many of our men had no first-hand knowledge of the good work Purdue was doing for the agriculture of our state, and did not realize that Purdue could be of so much benefit to them individually. I got up a little excursion last winter to attend the short course. Fifty-two attended, every one of whom returned feeling amply repaid. These men will each help boost the excursion for next winter.

Corn Production.

Last fall seed corn selection meetings were held in eighteen of the twenty townships of the county. These meetings were held in the field. Breeding, selection, storing, testing, etc., were emphasized. Attendance at eighteen seed corn meetings, 878.

This spring eight corn production meetings were held. Attendance at these meetings, 291.

This spring I organized a men's five-acre corn club with twenty-six members.

Oat Production.

Allen county is the second oat producing county in the state, producing about 60,000 acres annually. Oat smut was prevalent over almost the entire area. In February and March I conducted an oat production campaign in which the formaldehyde treatment for smut was emphasized. Twenty-one meetings were held, F. J. Pipal, of Purdue university, assisting with five of these. Attendance at these meetings, 949.

At the suggestion of the department of agricultural extension of Purdue university, I asked the druggists of the county to report the amount of formaldehyde sold this year for oats treatment, and the amount sold in 1914. The results of this canvass showed that 126 1-8 gallons had been sold in 1915, and 16 1-8 gallons in 1914. One pint of formaldehyde is sufficient to treat seventy-five bushels of oats. The average farmer in the county sows about 20 acres of oats. It is a fair estimate, therefore, that each pint of formaldehyde treated forty bushels of seed. This makes a total of 40,360 bushels treated, as compared with 5,160 last year.

Orchard Management.

Allen county ranks second in the state in the number of bearing apple trees. San Jose scale and other diseases have been doing a vast amount of damage. In order to further proper methods in orchard management five spraying and pruning demonstrations were held in the county, F. I. Odell, of Purdue university, assisting with three of these. Attendance at demonstrations, 150.

Six additional meetings were held to discuss problems relating to care and management of orchards.

Co-operative Demonstrations.

In order to place the work more directly before the people of our county, forty-five field demonstrations are being carried on with farmers. These demonstrations consist in working out better practices under actual farm conditions, with the direction of the county agent. The number and kind of demonstrations are listed below:

Oat smut control, 20; fertilization of oats, 5; alfalfa production, 5; alfalfa fertilization, 1; lime for alfalfa, 1; corn breeding 2; corn fertilization, 3; corn and soy beans for silage, 1; comparison of feeding value of corn and soy bean silage, with corn silage, 1; demonstration orchard, 1; dynamite before setting apple trees in clay soil, 1; farm poultry demonstration (under direction of Purdue), 1; dairy management, 2.

Alfalfa Demonstration Tour.

In order to acquaint as many farmers as possible with the methods and practices followed by some of our most successful alfalfa growers, a two days' automobile tour was conducted on May 26 and 27. An evening meeting was held at the close of the first day. Eight alfalfa fields were visited on each day, and all of the practices in connection with each field were studied at first hand. T. A. Coleman, of Purdue university, was with us to lead in discussions on the first day, and J. P. Prigg, sent out by Purdue, on the second day. On May 26 there were thirty-four automobiles and 146 people with us, and twenty-four automobiles and ninety-six men on May 27. Seedsmen have already sold four times as much alfalfa seed as in 1914.

Silo Demonstration Tour.

Allen county farmers are just beginning to appreciate the value of silos in feeding. A two days' tour of the county was made to study different types of silos and feeding methods. The following types were visited: Monolithic concrete, cement slab, triple wall wood, wood stave and clay tile. Twenty-three automobiles carrying eighty-five people attended the first day, and seventeen automobiles with sixty men the second day. An evening meeting was held at the close of the first day. J. W. Schwab, of Purdue university, was with us both days to lead discussions.

In both the silo and the alfalfa tours the men attending received first-hand information that would take years of experience for them to acquire.

Hog Production.

Hog cholera was prevalent in four districts of the county last fall. Statistics which I gathered last winter showed the loss to be about $25,000 for the county. Upon a request to Purdue university, Dr. Paul A. Mollan was sent to assist in educational work in stopping the spread of this disease, and thus prevent new outbreaks. Seven vaccination demonstrations, three evening lectures, and one post-mortem were held. I did considerable placarding of farms with hog cholera warnings, made numerous post-mortems on farms, and spread the education concerning hog cholera in every way possible. This spring Dr. C. G. Starr, of Purdue university, assisted at a hog production meeting with the Maumee township Farmers' club. The total attendance at these meetings was 643.

Foot and Mouth Disease.

When it was reported that the foot and mouth disease had infected the Union stock yards at Chicago, every effort was made to keep the malady out of Allen county. Early in November I looked up and visited every shipment of stock that had arrived since the danger of infection began. Later I assisted the federal and state authorities in quarantining infected districts, inspections, and explained the nature of the disease at nearly every farmers' meeting held in the county during this time.

Horse Improvement.

Although Allen county is considerably above the average of the state in quality of horses kept on the farms, and in the per cent. of pure-bred stallions used, there is still room for much improvement. Early in March Purdue university sent D. O. Thompson, secretary of the stallion enrollment board, to help with lectures on horse improvement. Five meetings were held, attendance 171.

Dairy Herd Improvement.

Allen county is admirably situated for the dairy industry, but this branch of our agriculture has been very much neglected. Since January 1, I have been instrumental in bringing into the county six pure-bred dairy bulls. I have calls for two more at the present time. I have held eighteen meetings for the discussion of dairy problems.

Farm Visits.

It is obvious that with over 8,000 farms in the county I am obliged to work with groups rather than individuals as much as possible. I have endeavored to reduce to a minimum the need for farm visits. Under this heading are included only special visits to farms to work out some definite problem that cannot be handled from the office, and is not reached by demonstrations or meetings. This does not include the hundreds of farm stops in the regular work of demonstrations, etc. Fifty-one farm calls have been answered and as many problems worked out.

Other Meetings and Activities.

Farmers' and teachers' meetings, both day and evening, have been held throughout the year. Among the subjects discussed were: Spraying of fruits, preparation of spraying materials, silos and silage, fertilizers and fertilization, farm management, improving the farm home, principles of breeding of animals, selection of the herd bull, care and management of the dairy herd, raising the calf, dairy rations, sanitary milk, costs in milk production, sanitary milk, hog management, care and management of farm poultry, how to teach agriculture in the schools, vocational work for our boys and girls.

I have met, in their various meetings, with the executive committees of the New Haven and Washington township corn shows, the Allen County Plowing association, Fort Wayne Back Yard Improvement committee, Federation of Allen County Farmers' Clubs, and the chairmen of the Allen County farmers' institutes. I have had the office equipped with a show case for ten-ear samples of corn, and have recently established a farmers' exchange.

The hearty co-operation in the work by our county superintendent of schools, our township trustees, farmers and business and professional men, together with the splendid support of the Allen county press, have been largely responsible for whatever success the work has attained.

Summary.

Evening meetings held, 74; day meetings held, 98; total meetings held, 172; average attendance at meetings, 71; total attendance at meetings, 12,209; co-operative demonstrations, 45; farm visits, 51; office calls, 892; miles traveled by automobile in county in regular discharge of duties, 8,247.

AT THE TEMPLE.

HEART-BROKEN OLD MAN.

Blosser Jennings' Depiction of Capt. Amos at Temple Realistic.

A beaten, heart-broken old man, overtaken after twenty years by the ghost of a crime of two decades agone turning his back on all he held most dear and sacred, is the tear-compelling scene in which Capt. Amos in the comedy-drama, "The Girl From Out Yonder," pays the price of a youthful escapade. Blosser Jennings as the old lighthouse keeper attains a heighth of dramatic achievement rarely encountered in stock work as he slouches down into his old chair a picture of utter dejection but determined that none shall bear the burden with him.

There is a world of homely comedy in the two characters, Ben Cooke (Maurice Jenkins) and Cousin Simonson (Miss Alama Powell), and how Ben, after proposing and being refused thirty-six times, finally makes Cousin Simonson propose herself, is the best laugh in the story.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

THE FASCINATING THEDA BARA.

Famous Delineator of "Vampire" Roles Seen at Jefferson.

"The Devil's Daughter" is based upon Gabrielle d'Annunzio's most famous work, "L' Giaconda." It makes into a screen drama of tremendous power in its depiction of an evilly beautiful siren, who, like the Lama of ancient Greek mythology, is half serpent and half woman in her nature. Even if d'Annunzio had not insisted on the famed Theda Bara playing the role of the seductive heroine, the play itself would have created a profound sensation among playgoers. Miss Bara's striking and beautiful face has been called "the wickedest in the world," and in "The Devil's Daughter" she plays a character even more insinuatingly evil than in any of her other successes, which include "A Fool There Was" and "The Clemenceau Case."

In addition to the above-mentioned feature, the Jefferson has arranged to project another new Charles Chaplin comedy, "The Rounders."

The concluding attraction manifests itself in a graphic batch of the Pathe Pictorial News, and during the intermissions Jack Richards will sing sweetly.

(By Kenneth W. Payne.)

Philadelphia, Pa., July 1.—The $35,000 special train that will transport the old Liberty Bell in unprecedented glory across America to the Panama-Pacific exposition has just been made ready here!

Next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock the train will pull out on the first lap of its eleven-day transcontinental journey, during which fifty-one stops will be made that folks along the way may view the famous symbol of our liberties!

The Liberty Bell is assuredly America's most traveled relic. This will be the ninth trip, and the longest, that it has taken since its birth in England 163 years ago! The old Liberty Bell has already traveled close to 15,000 miles; it will have covered a distance of more than 20,000 miles before it is restored next fall to its ancient resting place here in Independence Hall.

Unparalleled precautions have been taken this time to insure the safe transportation of the bell. The clapper has been removed and rests on a platform beneath the hollow where it hung for over a century and a half. Inside a steel skeleton has been fitted by five expert metallurgist. The rigid fingers of the skeleton, or "spider" as its inventor calls it, grip tightly the chipped lips of the bell which are supported by automobile jacks.

Thus mounted, the bell will make its historic journey on a gondola car, guarded by a princely retinue of city fathers, sergeants-at-arms, policemen, stewards, porters, stenographers, photographers, newspapermen and headed by Mayor Blankenberg himself.

There will be about forty persons in the party. The luxurious special train provided for this distinguished bodyguard of the Liberty Bell includes one private car, three sleepers, a baggage car, and a diner.

The total cost of the trip will be more than $35,000, which puts the citizens of Philadelphia have voted to pay from their own pockets, in order that millions of Americans may this year see the bell instead of only the few thousand tourists who might come to Philadelphia to view it.

For the Liberty Bell, though historically a national relic, belongs to the city of Philadelphia and is preserved by a division of the department of public works.

Leaving Philadelphia July 5, the bell will stop for thirty minutes in Harrisburg, spend the next day in short jumps across Ohio, and reach Chicago that evening for a six-hour stay.

On July 8, the authentic anniversary of the bell's first ringing to call the people together to celebrate the signing of the Declaration of Independence, the party will be in Kansas City.

Thence the route is via Omaha, Denver, Salt Lake City, Boise, Spokane, Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, and Sacramento. The train will be due in San Francisco July 16, and the following day has been appointed "Liberty Bell Day" by the officials of the exposition. Pamphlets containing the "Story of the Bell" will be distributed at all stopping points along the route.

The escorting party will be entertained by the city of San Francisco until July 20. Thereafter, only the four husky policemen will remain to guard the bell at the exposition until its return to Philadelphia, some time in November.

The preceding junket of the Liberty Bell were to Allentown, Pa., during the revolution, when the British captured Philadelphia, to New Orleans in 1885, to Chicago in 1893, to Atlanta in 1895, to Charleston in 1902, to Boston in 1903 and to St. Louis in 1904.

Bridesmaid Gown May Do for Dancing

The bridesmaid who looked ahead to the numerous dancing parties she'll attend during the summer, planned her bridesmaid's frock so that it will do for a dance as well as a wedding.

I saw a very effective model the other day—a Fashion Art League of America design, by the way—which serves this double purpose. The new shade of gaslight green was used in chiffon and taffeta with a waist of white tulle with the green underneath forming two points in front. The girdle was of green taffeta. The skirt was made in baggy Zouave style over a plain underskirt, quite short and finished with scallops. The rope of iridescent beads fell from the waist and was caught at the edge of the overskirt with a rose ornament.

BOYLE-PIEPENBRINK WEDDING PARTY.

One of the most beautiful church weddings of the season was solemnized in St. Andrew's Catholic church on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock when Rev. G. H. Horstman officiated at the marriage of Miss Ethel M. Piepenbrink and Mr. Edward P. Boyle and celebrated the nuptial high mass. The church was tastefully decorated with palms and ferns and the bride and her maids made a lovely appearance in the delicate hues of their gowns outlined against the green of the decoration. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Fern Piepenbrink, who was maid of honor, and by Miss Rosella Fenker as bridesmaid. Little Lucile Piepenbrink was ring-bearer and Mildred Adams was flower girl. Mr. Harold Adams was best man and the groom's brother, Mr. Wilfred Boyle, was groomsman. Two other friends who acted as ushers were Messrs. Elmer Bobay and Raymond Fenker. The bride wore a beautiful gown of pussy willow satin with pearl trimmings, a veil of tulle and carried a white prayer-book and a bouquet of bride roses. The maid of honor was dressed in pale yellow crepe de meteor and the bridesmaids wore gowns of light green. The ring-bearer was dressed in pale blue and the flower maid in pink. All carried flowers to harmonize with their dresses and the effect in color was beautiful. After the solemn service the bride and groom and their attendants together with immediate relatives were served a breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Piepenbrink, of Lumbard avenue. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers. In the afternoon a large reception was given at the home of the groom's cousin, Mrs. Sam Masbaum, who lives east of the city. Many friends called on the young couple to extend congratulations and they were entertained with music and elegant refreshment. The house was bright with many flowers used in decorating the rooms. The bride and groom are to make their home for the present with Mr. Boyle's parents, who live at 2422 New Haven avenue.

from Vera Cruz said it was hoped the supplies would go forward today. If this is true a battle for possession of the city may now be in progress.

Much Concern for Foreigners.

Much concern is felt for the safety of the 20,000 or more foreigners, including many Americans.

The situation in the Mexican capital made more dangerous for foreigners by the battling armies in the suburbs, is causing Washington officials more worry just now than any other phase of conditions in the southern republic. Mexico's newest revolution, said to have been nipped in the bud by the arrest at the border of Gen. Huerta and others and new peace moves even were overshadowed by conditions at the capital.

Border on Anarchy.

Latest reports from Mexico City which came by courier to Vera Cruz and cabled to the state department several days later say conditions bordering on anarchy prevailed there.

With the Mexican capital cut off from telegraph communication with the outside world official anxiety increased concerning the safety of foreigners there. The advices made no mention, however, of foreigners having been harmed.

The situation was laid before Secretary Lansing upon his return today.

in the declaration of London and the general rules of international law.

Causes Much Speculation.

The question of what effect chartering of the Armenian either directly or indirectly by the British government would have on the vessel's status caused much speculation today. There has been, it was said at the state department, no explicit rules concerning the treatment of chartered vessels in time of war, but from various cases in the past the general practice has been to regard vessels as part of the military or naval forces of a belligerent only when either manned by commissioned or naval officers or when the vessel is on the naval list of a belligerent.

Collectors of American ports have had orders to prevent the departure of foreign military officers on board ships transporting horses or mules from the United States and similarly clearance has been refused to all British vessels which were armed. Officials were inclined to believe that the chartering of the vessel by the British government would not affect vitally the merits of the case, because the character of the ship was that of a peaceful merchantman when it left the shores of the United States and the crew was therefore entitled to be removed to a place of safety before the ship was destroyed.

First Since Lusitania.

The case of the Armenian constitutes the first since the sinking of the Lusitania in which American lives have again been lost. The expectation here has been that Germany's reply to the last American note would make some concessions that would insure the safety of Americans on the case and especially upon passenger vessels. Comparatively little attention has been given to the case of Americans on board belligerent ships which carried freight and contraband. The new aspects developed by the sinking of the Armenian were the subject of widespread comment since it was pointed out in various quarters that the incident was most likely to draw forth some definite expression on the attitude the United States will take concerning the association of American citizens with the carriage of contraband on ships devoted to such trade.

MADE EFFORT TO ESCAPE.

Armenian Skipper Took His Chances With German Submarine.

Avonmouth, Eng., July 1.—(12:12 p. m.)—There were eleven Americans among the nineteen members of the crew who lost their lives in the sinking of the Layland line freight steamer Armenian by the German submarine U-38, of Trevose Head, Cornwall, on Monday. Some members of the crew were killed outright when the German torpedo struck the ship.

When sunk by the German submarine the Armenian was carrying a cargo of 1,422 mules from Newport News to Avonmouth, the animals to be used by the French armies in Belgium and France. The vessel had a crew of seventy-two men and carried ninety-six men as mule tenders.

The submarine was first sighted by the man at the wheel and though the ship was pushed to the limit the mosquito craft rapidly overhauled her and commenced shelling. The Armenian's efforts to keep her stern to the submarine were futile. The faster vessel circled the freighter and the German commander, speaking through a megaphone, ordered the Armenian's captain to surrender or he would sink the ship.

The skipper of the Leyland liner struggled hard to evade the under-sea boat, but the latter dropped a shell through a skylight into the steamer's engine room, putting the engines out of action. The Armenian then surrendered. Life boats were lowered and the crew and some seventy muleteers, nearly all Americans, scrambled into them.

As one of the boats was being lowered a shell from the submarine cut the falls of the boat. The occupants were spilled into the water and presumably were drowned.

Five boats loaded with survivors got away. The submarine then fired two torpedoes into the Armenian and the vessel sank within thirty minutes. The survivors stayed with the boats until a steam trawler landed them at Avonmouth.

DR. GEO. J. STOUDER IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

at that institution entered Wabash college. In 1907 he was graduated from the medical department of Purdue university at Indianapolis.

Returning to this city shortly after he completed his education, he established a practice that soon became extensive. He was very successful and although still a young man had developed into a physician and surgeon of remarkable ability. A number of years ago, when the office of police surgeon was created here, Dr. Studer was appointed to fill the position, and held the office for several years.

He was married to Miss Florence Hughes at St. Patrick's Catholic church in this city in 1909, and the widow and one son, James Joseph Studer, survive. His father, Joseph Studer, a Nickel Plate engineer, also survives him.

Dr. Studer was an interested and active worker in his church, the Cathedral, which he joined six years ago, and was prominent in the work in other organizations with which he was affiliated.

He was a member of Fort Wayne Elks. 155, of the Knights of Columbus, 451, of the Modern Woodmen, the Medical Protective association and the Holy Name society of the Cathedral congregation.

IS TOLD OF BEREAVEMENT

Neither Mrs. Gooley, who has not been permitted yet to talk much, nor her daughters, who are in much better state, will express belief that the husband and father had any intention of taking any life but his own when he turned on the gas-burners of the kitchen range and sat down to permit the deadly fumes to fill the house.

Mrs. Gooley says her husband was very drunk and in an ugly mood when he came home early Tuesday evening. At first he was not admitted to the house, but finally came in and sat down by the kitchen stove, while Mrs. Gooley and Loretta sat in a front room. Donald and Hazel Gooley had gone to their chambers for the night. Directly Mrs. Gooley detected the odor of gas and going into the kitchen found her spouse huddled over the stove, of which the burner valves were open and emitting a flood of gas into the room.

Turned Off the Gas.

She turned off the burner valves as well as the main valve with the remark to her husband, "That's right; you're trying to kill yourself and all of us." Gooley was left apparently asleep in his chair by the stove and about 11 o'clock the mother and her daughter, Loretta, retired. That is the last that Mrs. Gooley could remember of Tuesday night's events. She regained consciousness at the hospital about 8 o'clock Wednesday evening and later was questioned briefly by Deputy Prosecutor Stephen A. Callahan.

Loretta Gooley stated at Hope hospital that she could not believe her father meant to destroy the whole family, though admitting that his drunkenness made him abusive and brutal and a menace to the members of the family. She was questioned Wednesday afternoon by Chief of Police Lenz, at which time she did not know of the death of her father and brother.

Inquest at 4 oO'Clock.

Coroner Edward Kruse will start the inquest at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the court house, although it may be two or three days before the surviving members ofthe family will be able to testify. The first witnesses to be called will be those living near the Gooley family.

YOUNGSTOWN TAKES SECOND FROM CUBS

Yesterday's Game Was Played on Muddy Field in Rain.

Youngstown, O., July 1.—Fort Wayne held tight to its slumping streak here yesterday, dropping its second game to Youngstown. The game was played in a drizzle on a muddy field, and clever plays were few, although it required but one hour and twenty-three minutes to finish the affair.

Robbins opened the game on the mound the visitors, and a walk, a single and uble meant two scores and Osborne to work. But his fellow left-hander rted things wrong, and the two the first beat the Cubs.

Wayne made its only fun in the hen Beyers hit and was forced at by Osborne's grounder, and Shee- singled and so did Brant, bringing big pitcher across the plate. The imen made things doubly sure in the nth when they got another man around, bringing the final totals to 3 and 1. Score:

THE BENDERS CELEBRATE.

South Bend, Ind., July 1.—South Bend closed up shop at noon today and went to the ball game. The occasion was the annual booster day, staged for the benefit of the local Southern Michigan league club. The city is in gala attire, bands are playing and it was expected that league attendance records would be broken at this afternoon's game. A big automobile parade preceded the contest. South Bend yesterday clinched first place for the first of two pennant races to be staged in the Southern Michigan league. The present scramble will end on Monday and a new race will begin at once.

JOHNNY EVERS SUED.

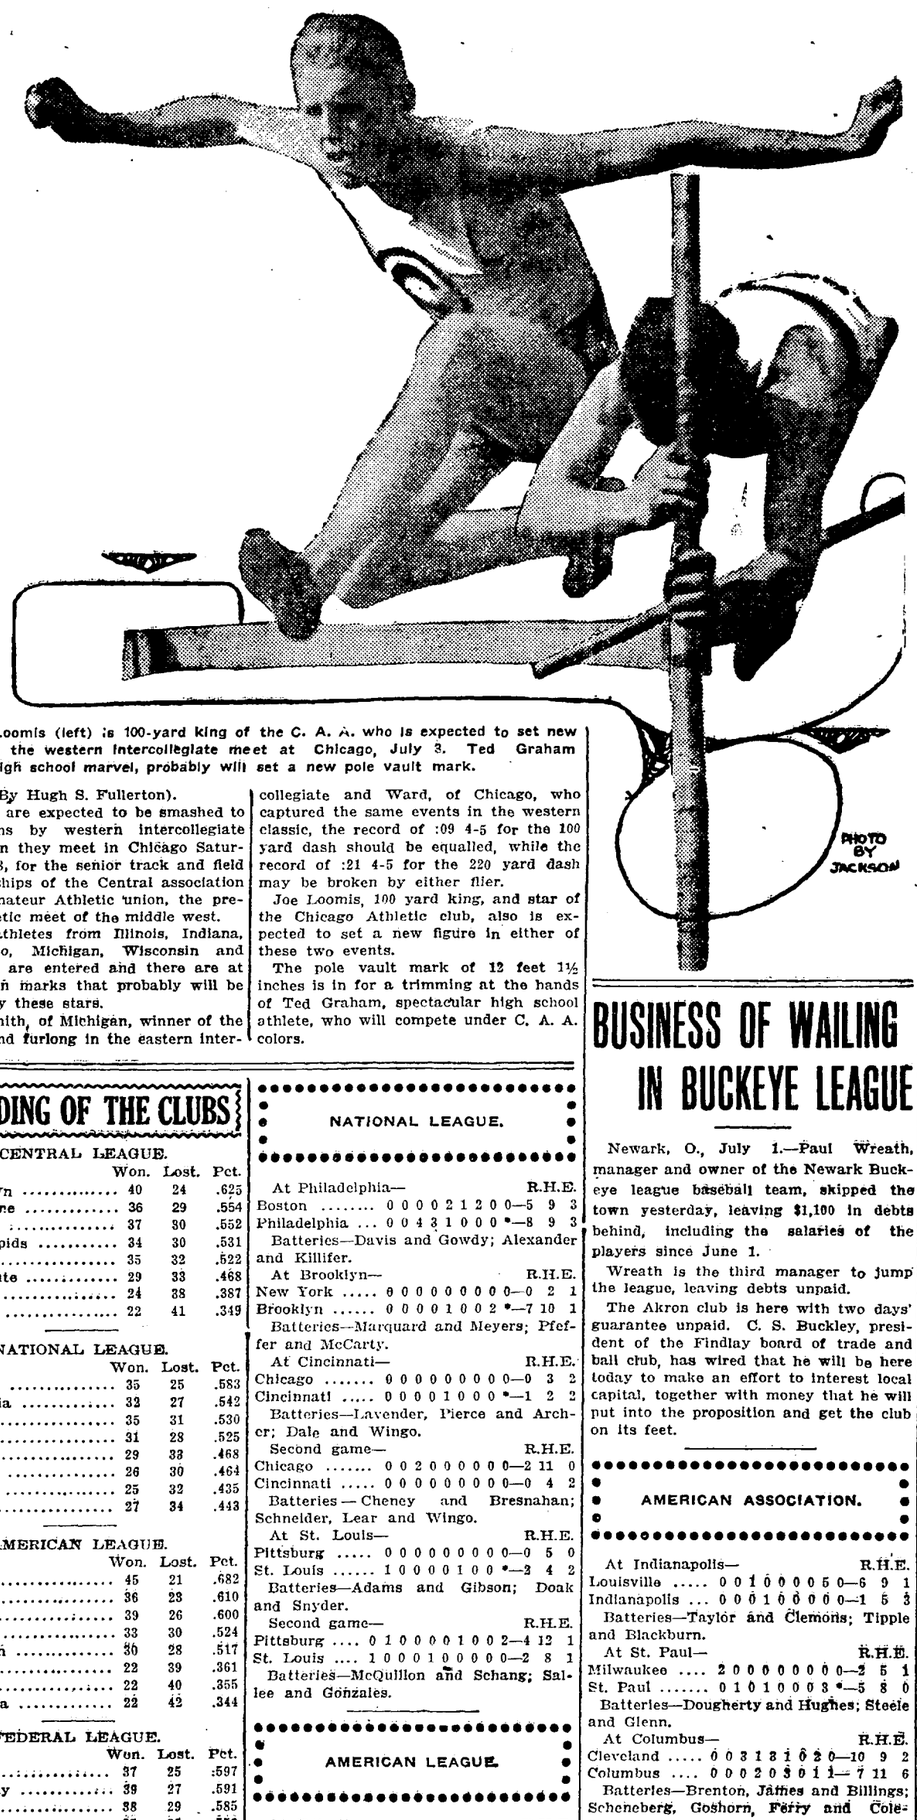
ATHLETES READY TO SMASH RECORDS IN BIG WESTERN MEET.



Joe Loomis (left) is 100-yard king of the C. A. A. who is expected to set new marks in the western intercollegiate meet at Chicago, July 3. Ted Graham (right), high school marvel, probably will set a new pole vault mark.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton).

Records are expected to be smashed to smithereens by western intercollegiate stars when they meet in Chicago Saturday July 3, for the senior track and field championships of the Central association of the Amateur Athletic union, the premier athletic meet of the middle west.

Crack athletes from Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota are entered and there are at least seven marks that probably will be lowered by these stars.

With Smith, of Michigan, winner of the century and furlong in the eastern intercollegiate and Ward, of Chicago, who captured the same events in the western classic, the record of :09 4-5 for the 100 yard dash should be equalled, while the record of :21 4-5 for the 220 yard dash may be broken by either flier.

Joe Loomis, 100 yard king, and star of the Chicago Athletic club, also is expected to set a new figure in either of these two events.

The pole vault mark of 12 feet 1½ inches is in for a trimming at the hands of Ted Graham, spectacular high school athlete, who will compete under C. A. A. colors.

The invasion of Newark by the Federal league and the consequent slump in gate receipts at the International club's park are said to be the leading reasons for consideration of the proposed transfer.

$1,635,000 Hidden

In This Year's Goodyear Tires

Here are amazing facts:

Goodyear Fortified Tires contain five costly features found in no other tire. They have other features not common.

If we omitted those features, this year's probable output would cost us $1,635,000 less. We could add that much to our profits. And you would never know it until troubles came.

This year's improvements alone will cost us $500,000 yearly. Most of this goes into extra rubber—all into extra wear. And we shall spend on research $100,000 this year to find other betterments still.

Users Save $5,000,000

Yet our 1915 price reduction—made February 1st—will save Goodyear users about $5,000,000 this year. And that was our third reduction in two years, totaling 45 per cent.

These extra features—used by us alone—will save users millions more.

That's why Goodyears dominate. They have long outsold any other. They are gaining new users faster than we can supply them. We hope, for your own sake, that they'll soon win you. Any dealer will supply you. (3in)

BUSINESS OF WAILING IN BUCKEYE LEAGUE

Newark, O., July 1.—Paul Wreath, manager and owner of the Newark Buckeye league baseball team, skipped the town yesterday, leaving $1,100 in debts behind, including the salaries of the players since June 1.

Wreath is the third manager to jump the league, leaving debts unpaid.

The Akron club is here with two days' guarantee unpaid. C. S. Buckley, president of the Findlay board of trade and ball club, has wired that he will be here today to make an effort to interest local capital, together with money that he will put into the proposition and get the club on its feet.

MADAM:—

Do you realize the inconvenience of wash day?

Do you realize how much you could accomplish if you could do away with the trouble and muss to say nothing of the weariness due to washing?

Do you realize that you can stop all of this trouble, muss, weariness and inconvenience by sending your washing to the WET WASH LAUNDRY?

Do you know that we wash the clothes, extract the water, for the minimum charge of 60c for thirty pounds and 2c a pound over thirty pounds?

This method allows you to starch the clothes to suit your particular taste and dry them in the sunlight.

Now think this over seriously, then phone 6001 and have the wagon call for your next washing.

Yours respectfully,
6-26-tf NEW SYSTEM LAUNDRY.

BASEBALL WAR IS COMING TO CLOSE

Judge Landis is Ready to Make Public His Decision.

Judge Kenesaw M. Landis has intimated that the long looked for baseball decision, which he has carried upon his shoulders for several months, will be forthcoming within a few days. The history of the case dates back to the first of the year when the Federals brought suit against organized baseball in an attempt to prove that baseball under the organization is a trust. In Chicago on Monday Judge Landis stated that "the delay in this case has been in the real interest of baseball" taken to mean by baseball men in general that the findings of the court will have a surprising effect on the future of the national game.

There is but little doubt that Judge Landis will recommend a discontinuance of the baseball war in the interest of the game, and it is expected that he will tender suggestions to the warring magnates which, if followed, will wipe out the baseball war entirely and give the grand old game a chance to recover from the effects which the war has had upon it.

It is said that in spite of absolute denials on the part of leading lights in both organized baseball and the Federal league there is a movement on hand which may bring the magnates together and effect a settlement that will clear up the baseball horizon. How much better would such a condition be for baseball? The army of lawyers with their volumes of evidence, long winded arguments and restraining orders have done the game no good. The spiteful work of magnates on both sides and the brazen attitude of some players and club owners alike has resulted in the shattering of the "little tin idol" before which the baseball fan once worshiped.

CHARLIE WHITE IS NEW YORK FAVORITE

New York, July 1.—Charlie White is training at Rye Beach for his match with Champion Freddie Welsh at Brighton Beach Saturday night. Charlie has the natives all "hot up" by his style of battling and they're going to be there with White until the last punch is delivered.

There isn't a mother's son who ever follows the boxers at Rye Beach who isn't imbued with confidence that White will win by a knockout. He has told everyone that the Fourth of July this year will see the routing of an English champion and an American—although an adopted one—become the lightweight champion of the world. Charlie thinks that's a great hunch and really believes it will work more in his favor than his famous old New York jinx will work against him.

And, as is customary during these big semi-annual clearance sales, our store will be crowded, especially in the afternoons. It will help both customers and saleforce if all who can leave their homes in the morning hours will do their shopping then.

We Announce for Today, July 1st, the Opening of Our Great Annual Event, the

DYE SUPPLY MAY FAIL ENTIRELY

Knitting Mills Has Only Enough to Run Half Time for Six Weeks.

The rumor concerning the situation in the dye department of the Wayne Knitting Mills is exaggerated, according to a statement of one of the officials of the company this morning. The rumor was to the effect that the mills will have to close entirely on account of lack of dye material. For the past six months the dye department has been able to get only about a half supply and as a result the department was running on a half-time schedule, but the other departments are running in full blast. John A. Thieme said this morning that the shortage in dye supply is becoming worse and that unless there was improvement soon, the department would have to shut down. "But we are fixed for operating the department on present schedule for six or seven weeks. Not all of the mills will be used, however, and the greater portion will be operated on full time," continued Mr. Thieme. The mills will be closed Monday on account of the national holiday and on Tuesday on account of the Liberty Bell demonstration.

HONORED C. D. WHEELER.

Associates at Electric Works Give Him a Banquet.

C. D. Wheeler, who retires next Saturday from the office of advertising manager for the Fort Wayne Electric works, to take a position in the east, was the honored guest at a banquet at the Commercial club Wednesday night. The participants were chiefly the officers, heads of the departments, foremen and clerks at the big plant who wished to express their esteem for Mr. Wheeler and sorrow because the association in a business and social way which had been so pleasant for several years was about to be severed.

The menu and the program cards were in the center of an eight-page folder designed especially for the occasion. The frontal page contained a portrait of Mr. Wheeler and a number of pictures illustrative of the various products of the big plant on Broadway. Beneath the picture of Mr. Wheeler were the words, "Farewell Banquet to the Ad Man."

The decorations of the pages were the work of George Gewehn, the company's photographer. The menu read as follows: Consomme in cup, radishes, olives, one-half spring chicken, new potatoes in cream, buttered peas in timbales, stuffed tomato salad, hot rolls, vanilla ice cream with crushed strawberries, cake and coffee. On the opposite page were the names of the toastmaster and the men who responded to toasts. The list follows: "J. B. Mills, roastmaster; O. B. Rhinehart, very bad; T. W. Behan, worser; James J. Wood, worser yet; Henry Hoermann, much worser yet; P. Z. Hazelton, ?????; Cleon DeMont Wheeler, speech and trombone solo; H. E. Crane and E. A. Wagner, end men.

Seated at the tables were the following, all associates of Mr. Wheeler in conducting the affairs of the Fort Wayne Electric works:

A. Braun, G. Gewehn, J. Hartman, F. Goetz, William Crighton, H. Hartman, E. A. Wagner, H. E. Crane, O. B. Rinehart, B. C. Evans, A. L. Hadley, F. Rapp, O. Cooper, R. H. Fitch, P. H. Hazelton, P. O. Smith, T. W. Behan, A. A. Serva, F. S. Hunting, J. J. Wood, H. J. Head, H. Herrman, C. E. Becker, J. B. Crankshaw, P. Hoppe, R. Roberts, L. C. Yapp, S. B. Kerlin, G. Bangert, F. Mills, H. F. Thomas, R. Muller, J. W. Crise, A. J. Schoenbein, Harry Baals, E. A. Barnes, W. G. Massey, W. Melching, C. Matson, Mr. McDonald, J. H. Evans, H. Evans, J. B. Mills, P. C. Morganthaler, C. Birely, J. R. Mitchell, F. G. Duryee, F. R. Dulin, August Kayser, J. Lotz, H. Granneman, J. J. Kline, C. D. Wheeler, C. I. Hall, J. E. Brobst, Alex. Wood, M. Toole.

Mr. Wheeler, as stated by the Sentinel several weeks ago, tendered his resignation, effective July 3, to take a similar position as assistant sales manager of the Santo Manufacturing company, of Philadelphia, in which several Fort Wayne people are interested and A. H. Boyd, a former employe of the Fort Wayne Electric works, is the manager. The company manufactures the Santo vacuum cleaner and does a big business.

Mr. Wheeler came here six or seven years ago, shortly after graduating from the Michigan state university at Ann Arbor, to take employment with the Fort Wayne Electric works. Soon afterwards he was advanced to the position of advertising manager, which he has held since. He is a member of the Scottish Rite, the Shriners and the Shriners' patrol. He is also prominently connected with other societies and is popularly and well known in Fort Wayne. He assumes the new duties at Philadelphia next Monday.

MOVING PICTURES TO BE TAKEN OF PARADE

A. C. W. Celebration Will Be One of the Big Events of the Year.

Moving pictures of the big parade to be given under the auspices of the Associated Christian Workers of Fort Wayne, Monday morning, July 5, will be shown in all the principal cities of the world. For that reason the committee in charge is anxious to have as many decorated automobiles as possible in order that a good showing will be made.

The following telegram was received Thursday from J. R. Johnson, manager of the Pathe Animated Weekly, which every week produces pictures of current events throughout the world showing them in all the leading moving picture theaters: "Will cover Fort Wayne July 5 if nothing unforeseen prevents."

The parade promises to rival the parade given on the day the Lincoln highway was dedicated and as a matter of fact the floats will be far more elaborate. Practically every church in the city will have a decorated float. Visiting delegations fro msurrounding cities are also planning upon having floats and will try and surpass those representing the local churches. This friendly rivalry is being encouraged by the committee in charge.

An all day celebration will be held at Foster park after the parade. George Crowe, an expert in serving big crowds, will have charge of the kitchen for the big dinner that will be served at the noon hour. Fifty members of the various Ladies' Aid societies will wait upon the tables and will be prepared to serve hot dinner to between 2,500 and 5,000 persons.

Dr. Ira Landrith, president of the Ward-Belmont college at Nashville, Tenn., and a former member of the Flying Squadron of America, and Mrs. Elizabeth Stanley, state vice president of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, will be the principal speakers. The address of welcome will be delivered by Rev. Charles Manchester, president of the Fort Wayne Ministerial association. Attorney William N. Ballou will introduce the speakers.

A special invitation has been extended to the members of the park board to attend the exercises.

NEW RECEIVER FOR PICTURE THEATER

Minuet Amusement Company Now in the Hands of Jess Edson.

Brentlinger, who was appointed receiver for the Minuet Amusement company, operating a moving picture theater in the Minuet building on East Washington street, having resigned his appointment, Judge Yaple in the superior court on Thursday appointed Jess Edson receiver and he filed his bond and has taken charge under the court's orders. The suit for the receivership was filed by Haywood Bros. & Wakefield, who had a claim against the Minuet Amusement company.

Damage Suit Settled Quickly.

Within a short time after William Hipshire, a minor, had filed through his next friend, Mae Hipshire, a suit against the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company for $65 damages for personal injuries, the case had gone to judgment in Judge Yaple's hands in the superior court, an entry for the amount claimed being made. The complaint alleged that the plaintiff boarded one of the defendant's interurban cars at stop — and by the sudden starting of the car was thrown against the railing on the platform and hurt.

Notes of the Courts.

In the superior court judgment has been given the plaintiff in the suit of David W. Rhoades, et al., vs. Henry J. Kelsey, et al., the finding holding that the plaintiff is entitled to possession of property in Lakeside, ejeectment and $63.

On affidavits for a change of venue from Judge Yaple in the superior court, William C. Ryan has been appointed special judge to hear the suit of James Baysinger, et al., vs. Henry F. J. Reiter, et al.

The superior court has fixed September 2 for the hearing before a jury of the suit of Gertrude Stegner vs. the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company.

In the superior court, in the case of Chester S. Adair vs. George C. and Delilah Treece in a complaint on contract for $500, the court has found for the plaintiff and ordered the receiver of property involved to be given to the plaintiff.

James W. Squires has begun suit in the superior court against Edward and Samantha Marschand to recover $4,375 on a note and to foreclose a mortgage.

The following cases have been dismissed from the superior court: Cora Moon vs. Albert Moon, Clora Sherwin vs. Alfred Sherwin, Homer Shaw vs. Rose Shaw, Milton vs. Keller and the Fort Wayne Country club.

Sues for Damages.

Suit for $260 damages for injuries to himself and his automobile has been filed in the circuit court by Clement Balsley, of South Bend, against R. M. Evans, of this city. Balsley alleges in his complaint that in September, 1914, he was driving his car along Turkey creek in St. Joseph township when Evans came along in his automobile, the two machines colliding. Balsley alleges that Evans was driving carelessly and was responsible for the accident.

NEW COUNTS IN HANNA CASE.

Sam D. Hanna, head of the defunct Hanna-Brackenridge company, has been arrested on a warrant charging two additional counts in the alleged crimes growing out of the crash of his concern two years ago, grand larceny and obtaining money under false pretense being added to forgery and perjury. He was arrested Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Herman Witte at an office in the Shoaff building. The affidavits were filed by Prosecuting Attorney Harry H. Hilgemann, and charge that Hanna obtained a loan of $860 from the German-American National bank of Fort Wayne, employing a false statement of assets to assure the bank. The other cases against Hanna have been transferred to the Wells circuit court on a change of venue. His aunt, Mrs. Eliza Hanna Hayden, furnished $1,500 bond for his release in the later cases as she had done in those preceding.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, July 1—Definite announcement that the steamship Armenian, sunk by a German submarine, was engaged in British admiralty business, had considerable effect today in strengthening the wheat market here. The news was taken by traders as tending to eliminate a disturbing question. After opening ½@⅝c lower to ¼c advance, quotations underwent a moderate dip and then rose about 1⅛c above last night for July and September.

The close was unsettled at a shade off to ⅝c advance compared with last night.

Corn became firm when wheat started decidedly upgrade. The opening, which ranged from the same as last night to ¼c higher, was followed by something of a sag but later by general net gain.

The close was nervous, ⅛@¼c to ½@⅝c above last night.

Action of oats market reflected the course of other grain. Business lacked volume.

Provisions held within a narrow range. Fluctuations and traders were both apparently without any really significance.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 1.—Latest foreign development contributed towards the heaviness which characterized today's early trading. Sinking of the steamship Armenia, involving further loss of Ametrican lives, revived fears of renewed tension with Germany. Losses of a point or more were recorded in the ealy dealings by Canadian Pacific, American Smelting and numerous specialties, while Reading, Union Pacific and Coppers lost substantial fretions. There were extensive offerings of . S. Steel at a moderate decline.

Dealings in Rubber, . Steel ,American Can and Amalgamated Copper, the latter at an advance of 2½ points on the increased dividend, comprised 50 per cent. of the first hour's small business. Announcement that the rubber meeting would not be held until late in the day was followed by a temporary setback in that stock. War stocks, motors and unclassified issues rewe mostly dull. Bonds were heavy.

Prices moved more unevenly in the final hour with severe declines in low priced railways and specialties. The closing was irregular.

THE WEATHER.

OFFICIAL FORECASTS.

Forecast till 7 p. m. Friday:

For Fort Wayne and vicinity: Fair tonight and Friday.

For Indiana: Generally fair tonight and Friday, preceded by thundershowers in south portion this afternoon.

For Ohio: Partly cloudy tonight and Friday; not much change in temperature.

For Lower Michigan: Generally fair tonight and Friday.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The barometric pressure is low over the lake region and thence southeastward to the middle Atlantic coast, with lowest over eastern Pennsylvania. The pressure is also low in the extreme southwest. A high area covers the western mountain states, with highest pressure in Alberta. This distribution of pressure has given cooler weather in the Canadian northwest provinces and only moderate temperature changes in the United States. The weather has remained fair in the states to the west of the Rocky mountains and generally so in the upper lake region and southwest, but along the eastern slope of the Rocky mountains, in the Missouri valley, lower Mississippi valley, gulf states, Atlantic coast states, lower lake region and Ohio valley local showers have occurred, with heavy amounts at Boston, New York, Binghamton and Albany.

While the weather is somewhat unsettled in this vicinity, it will be generally fair tonight and Friday, with not much change in temperature.

ALLIES WILL SOON STRIKE

Along the northern line the Austro-Germans appear to be experiencing the greatest success, for the Russians seem to be making a stubborn fight along the Gnila Lipa, while retreating generally between the Vistula and Bug rivers toward Lublin.

In the west both sides have attacked in the Argonne forests and beyond the Meuse hills without decisive result. The fighting of the past fortnight has been without permanent result except in the Vosges, where the French have consolidated substantial gains.

From Vienna the Italians are reported to be showing renewed energy along the Isonzo river, they having brought up more men and guns, but no decisive action is reported.

Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons this afternoon that the British naval and military losses in killed, wounded and missing in the operations against the Dardanelles up to May 31 aggregated 38,625 officers and men.

GERMAN NAVAL ATTACK FAILS.

Russians Repulse Bombardment and Effort to Land Troops.

Petrograd (Via London,) July 1.—5:56 a. m.—An attempt by German warships to bombard the port of Windau, Courtland and land troops, was repulsed by the Russians, according to an official statement issued last night at headquarters of the general staff. The communication says:

"A squadron of German ships, consisting of one patrolling cruiser, four light crlisers and many torpedo boats bombarded Windau and attempted to make a landing on the coast, but was repulsed. One of the hostile torpedo boats was blown up by a mine. Our torpedo boats engaged the enemy's cruisers. Other Russian torpedo boats, protecting these operations from the north, compelled the enemy to retire.

USES NO AMERICAN SHELLS.

Paris, July 1.—(12:15 p. m.)—With reference to an interview published in the United States in which Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria was quoted as saying that 50 per cent of the shells used by the French were manufactured in the United States, the ministry of war made to the Associated Press the following official statement:

"Neither now nor at any time since the beginning of the war has the French artillery made use of any shells whatsoever manufactured in the United States."

The French war office this afternoon issued the following report on the progress of hostilities:

"Last night passed quietly in the north in the vicinity of Arras and as far as Champagne. The German attack in the Argonne reported yesterday was particularly violent. It is estimated that the forces engaged amounted to two divisions. This attack, however, was checked. Furthermore two fresh movements against our trenches at the east on the Bonarville road were repulsed.

"Another violent attack delivered by the Germans in the vicinity of Metseral has been completely checked. The Germans suffered enormous losses."

FATHER'S FACE AROSE BEFORE HIM

Then Young William Geerken Decided Not to End Life.

"I was down-hearted and wanted to end it all, but when I put the knife up to my throat my dead father's face rose up before me and I couldn't do it."

That was what young William Geerken, a 19-year-old youth who has been much in trouble, related in the city court, Thursday morning, when arraigned on a charge of disorderly conduct. He was arrested Wednesday night, at the residence of an uncle with whom he has been residing on Taylor street, after he had been flourishing two large-sized pocket knives. William Rhinehart, a cousin of the lad, testified that he didn't know whether young Geerken meant to kill himself or somebody else. Officer Boseker was called and he made the arrest. Young Geerken is under suspended sentence in the circuit court for larceny. Judge Kerr let him go.

New Charges Against Neireiter.

Two new charges, one of deserting his wife and the other for neglecting his children, were placed against Henry Neireiter in the city court, Thursday morning, and his bond was fixed at $250 in each case for his appearance Friday. He went to jail. Neireiter fled from the city two weeks ago and his mysterious disappearance caused a belief that he had committed suicide by jumping into the Maumee river, which later was dragged by the police. He returned to the city Wednesday and was surrendered to Sheriff Gladieux by Gordon Eby, who was surety on Neireiter's appeal bond from the city to the circuit court in an assault and battery case.

Other City Court Cases.

Jimmy Wier and Tom Smith were the principals in a dual sketch that was produced with great accompaniment of booze near the Lake Shore depot Wednesday night and were arrested by Officer Bert Smith. Each drew $1 and costs in the city court.

Lulu Slaffer, a young woman of 26, was found down and out from drink at Harrison and Columbia streets, Wednesday night, and was arrested by Officer Glen Johnson. Judge Kerr let her go.

The cases against Ed Taylor and John Luce, jr., charged with entering a house to commit a felony, were continued to Saturday. Taylor has been locked up since his arrest last week, but Luce furnished a bond and has not been seen since. The bond may be declared forfeited if he does not appear Saturday. They were arrested by Sheriff Gladieux and his deputies for attempting a hold-up at the home of Tom Covington on the Covington road. The case of Taylor presents some pathetic aspects. His aged mother is the sole support of two little grandchildren whose mother is dead and whose father has long neglected them. She takes in washings and works out by the day to earn a livelihood and says that her son Ed has always been a willing helper, remaining at work sometimes throughout the night to help with the washings.

RECOVER MERRIWETHER CAR.

The automobile belonging to James Merriwether, 1228 West Wayne street, that was stolen at 10 o'clock Wednesday night from in front of the Colonial theater at Calhoun and Washington streets, was recovered at 2 o'clock Thursday morning at Hanna and Buchanan streets by Captain Richard Kelly of the police. It had been abandoned there by the joy-riders who stole it.

HELD UP BY HOBOES.

George W. O'Connor, of Springfield, O., reports to the police that he was held up by three hoboes in the Wabash railway yards near the coal docks, Wednesday night, and robbed of $2.50 cash, his army discharge and some letters.

SLOGAN IS ADOPTED.

"Back to Indiana in 1916" Is Historical Commission Cry.

Indianapolis, July 1.—The Indiana Historical Commission, planning for next year's centennial celebration, has announced the adoption of the slogan, "Back to Indiana in 1916," as one of the first steps in making the Hoosier centennial one of the biggest observances of its kind ever held in the United States. The commission urges that every Indiana citizen help on the "Bring Back Home," for the celebration, former Indiana people who now are living in other sections.

"Indianans traveling beyond the confines of the state will act as ambassadors of Hoosier hospitality," says the commission's announcement, "and will call the prodigals homeward where 'the moonlight's fair tonight along the Wabash.'"

Vice President to Take Some Baths at Hot Springs.

Indianapolis, July 1—Vice President and Mrs. Marshall will depart Sunday for Hot Springs, Ark., where Mr. Marshall is to be the speaker Monday at a July Fourth celebration. The vice president may remain at the springs a few days to take some baths to relieve soreness in one of his shoulders. QUIET SEA CAUSED SUBMARINE MISHAP

Curious Anamoly in Case of H-3, Now in Safety at San Francisco.

San Francisco, July 1.—United States submarine H-3, which was floated late yesterday after being wedged between the rocks near Point Sur lighthouse since Tuesday night, arrtved here today. It was said the H-3 would be drydocked to determine if any damage was done to her hull.

Details of the grounding and the release of the little vessel later reveal a curious anomaly. A quiet sea was the cause of the submarine's mishap; a slightly rough sea gave it freedom.

Tuesday night Point Sur was enveloped in a dense fog. Ordinarily this would not have disturbed mariners inasmuch as the breakers that almost constantly assault the high promontory give out ample warning. But the sea that evening was so still there was not a wave to sound the peril of the rocks and the H-3, before it was aware, ran snugly between two huge boulders.

All day yesterday the submarine clung fast to its berth, despite the efforts of the tender Cheyenne to pull it out. Late in the afternoon, however, the sea began to rise. A sudden swell lifted the vessel and at the same instant the Cheyenne's line taughtened. The sudden jerk pulled the H-3 clear and threw it against another rock, turning it on its side. From the almost perpendicular decks five of the crew slid into the water. Two could not swim but ropes were tossed to them and in a few minutes all were back on board. The H-3 was quickly pulled into open water, with injuries, if any, of a minor character. When the Cheyenne, with the H-1 and the H-2, resumed the trip to San Francisco it was not the H-3 that the tender took in tow, but the H-1, which had developed a broken bearing.

ALABAMA CLAMPS ON LID.

State-Wide Prohibition Goes Into Effect Quietly.

Montgomery, Ala., July 1.—State-wide prohibition was in effect today. Every saloon and dispensary in the state was closed last night. The transition was accomplished with marked quiet and orderliness. The last few days of the saloon had developed a touch of the Bacchanalian, but reports of disorder were few and the police circles were remarkably quiet.

The saloons were closed under the provisions of the Merritt-Benson bills, enacted into law in January. The measures are almost duplicates of those enacted more than four years ago.

JUNE WAS A MONTH OF SUDDEN DEATHS

Coroner Holds Inquest Over 20 Bodies During Past Thirty Days.

The month of June which has just passed into time proved to be one filled with many accidents and many sudden deaths. During the past thirty days Coroner Edward Kruse held inquests over twenty bodies in Allen county, of which number fourteen were residents of this city. This is far above the average.

During the month there were seven accidental deaths, one murder and one suicide, in the city of Fort Wayne. Two of the seven accidental deaths were caused by electrocution; two people lost their lives by accidental gas asphyxiation; two were killed by automobiles and one by a coal wagon.

According to record kept at the city board of health office there were in all seventy-two deaths in the city in June as compared with fifty-three in the month of May. Nearly twenty-five per cent of this number were people who had reached an age of over seventy years.

Undertakers of the city are of the opinion that the number of deaths in June this year as compared with the same month in 1914 is much less. Hospital reports also show that there was less sickness this year in the past month than last year, facts which contradict the statements regarding the unhealthy weather which was experienced during June.

In the city of Fort Wayne alone, there were 125 births, exceeding the number of deaths by 53.

PEOPLE buy bargain refrigerators who would not buy bargain pianos—yet the refrigerator is far the more important of the two. A poor piano can do no more than offend your ears. A poor refrigerator may affect the health of the entire household. Odors and moisture accumulate in it; foods spoil quickly. You cannot afford to buy an ordinary refrigerator. It is almost as cheap in the beginning—and it is a good deal cheaper in the long run—to have one of the famous

McCRAY Refrigerators

—the refrigerators with the patented construction that insures a constant circulation of fresh, dry air to every part of every food chamber. Any refrigerator will keep foods cold; but there is no refrigerator that will keep them fresh as long as a McCray will do it. That is why it is used by the Government—in the Capitol, in the Pure Food Laboratories, in the Congressional Library, on battleships. That is why it is used in most of the excluse clubs and fine residences throughout the country. That is why it is the refrigerator you should have in your home.

We carry McCray Refrigerators in a variety of sizes to meet every requirement—and fit every purse. All have the patented McCray construction. Will gladly explain its many points of superiority to you if you call.

Washington, July 1.—Secretary Lansing announced today that until more complete reports had been received from Ambassador Page on the torpedoing of the Armenian, in which several Americans lost their lives Monday, the United States would take no action.

Latest news dispatches from Avonmouth, detailing how the Armenian made efforts to escape after being ordered to stop, caused officials to believe the sinking of the vessel was accomplished in accordance with international law and that the United States might have no reason to take up the subject with Germany, except to verify through the admiralty at Berlin the details of the Armenian's reported resistance.

Under the rules of international law, it was pointed out, that the Armenian, which flew the British flag, as well as any neutral vessel, could be sunk for refusing to obey a warning to halt and submit to visit and search or capture.

Americans Lose Protection.

Americans aboard such a ship lose protection of their government when the vessel offers resistance.

Ambassador Page reported that the Armenian was engaged in "admiralty business," but the question of how far the vessel was under the control of the British government by charter or otherwise, seemed to be overshadowed, in the minds of officials here, by the reported resistance to capture.

There was a relaxation of tension in official quarters by the news that the Armenian apparently was resisting capture for what seemed to loom up as a possible complication in the pending negotiations over submarine warfare with Germany appeared to be removed. The report that the German commander had come to the surface and hailed the Armenian was regarded as indicating an intention to visit and search even enemy ships, a principle for which the United States has been contending.

May Have New Orders.

It was suggested in some quarters that the German submarine commanders now have new orders requiring them not to torpedo any ships without warning. No cases have been reported of attack without warning in the last few weeks. The law on the question of charter is not clear, but officials indicated it would not be a violation of American neutrality laws for an unarmed transport carrying a cargo of munitions or supplies for a belligerent government to sail from the United States and that it never had been definitely determined whether belligerent cruisers on encountering such a vessel were to treat it as a ship of war or a defenseless merchantman.

Officials of the steamship company have stated that the Armenian was not under charter to the British admiralty, but was sailing merely as a merchantman carrying contraband.

Where Case Hinges.

Officials attached most importance to the actions of the Armenian at the time she was encountered by the German submarine. If the vessel, attempting to escape, failed to heed a warning shot from the submarine, not only the vessel, but the crew would be subject to the risks of a subsequent attack.

The position of the United States has been that citizens engaged in the carrying of contraband, who are on board ships that resist capture or attempt to run a blockade, are not entitled to the protection of the American government. One cablegram to the department spoke of a "second warning" having been fired at the wireless house of the Armenian, which gave rise to the impression that the first shot may have been fired in warning.

Might Parallel Lusitania.

On the other hand if the information which is expected to be received through American consular officers, who will talk with the survivors, proves that the Armenian made no effort to resist capture and was torpedoed without warning and without removing the members of the crew to a place of safety, officials thought the case would be almost parallel with that of the Lusitania.

The United States has contended for the principle that an unarmed and unresisting ship must not be destroyed until passengers and crew have been removed to a place of safety, as provided

Fourteen More Arrests Are Made Today in Rhode Island Case.

Providence, R. I., July 1.—Fourteen more arrests were made today in the election fraud case, all of today's defendants coming from the town of Coventry. They included Ellery Hudson, state factory inspector and a member of the republican state central committee; State Senator Irving Hudson, Deputy Sheriff Lowell Whitman and James Rathbun, brother of one of the superior court judges. Several of the other defendants are members of the republican town committees. The defendants are charged with having conspired to defraud the United States by corrupt practices at the election last November when a member of congress was chosen.

Senator Hudson is accused of having given to another man on election day $150 to be used for the payment of voters. Factory Inspector Hudson is charged with having met several other defendants prior to election to arrange the spending of money to bribe and corrupt the voters on election day.

TEMPERATURE LOWEST IN SEVERAL YEARS

During the month of June the temperature was the lowest since the establishment of the weather bureau here in 1911, the mean temperature being 64.8 degrees, as compared with 70.9 in 1911; 67.1 in 1912; 70.7 in 1913, and 70.4 in 1914.

The total precipitation was 2.77 inches, which is about an average. The rainfall since 1911 is as follows: 1911, 4.44; 1912, 3.24; 1913, 0.69; 1914, 2.39.

The highest temperature during the month was on June 6 when the mercury registered 84 and the lowest was on June 10 when it registered 43. The greatest rainfall was on June 25 and 29, when on both days the precipitation for twenty-four hours was .58 of an inch.

There were six clear days during the month, twelve partly cloudy and twelve cloudy. The prevailing direction of the wind was northeast, while for June during the past four years the prevailing direction was southwest. This accounts for the unusually low temperature.

300 Killed in Wreck of a Military Train

Laredo, Texas, July 1.—Three hundred Carranza soldiers and their wives and children were killed and several hundred injured in a wreck of a military train near Montemorelos, between Tampico and Monterey, according to an American who arrived here today from the interior. The accident took place three days ago he said.

The American traveler's story was the first intimation here of the wreck but this was attributed to the censorship, which has been extraordinarily strict recently. The train was heavily loaded and proceeding at full speed when it left the track and tumbled into a small canyon, the American said.

The soldiers with their wives and children and scores of women camp followers were being sent from Tampico to Monterey. The train was made up of box cars. Men, women and children were crowded inside. Others were on top, while many, as is a Mexican revolutionist custom, were slung under box cars. The engineer it was said was proceeding slowly because of poor tracks. Some time before reaching Monte Morelos, it was said the major in charge of the troops placed a pistol to the head of the engineer, demanding full speed. The engineer complied and just before reaching Monte Morelos the train left the track.

Passengers and crew fell with the train into the canyon and many were ground to death beneath the wreckage, the American declared. It was reported the major who gave the command for high speed was among the killed. None of the crew was known to have escaped.

No further details or confirmation of the reported wreck could be obtained here today.

ALLIES WILL SOON STRIKE

Formidable Attack Expected by French Forces in Arras Region.

SUPREME EFFORT IN DARDANELLES NEAR

Austro-German Armies Continue to Drive the Russians Back.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

From the field of war recent reports have indicated comparative inactivity except in northern Galicia and southern Poland where the tide is still with the Teutons and in the Gallipoli peninsula, where the allied forces are apparently making determined attempts to gain important ground in the attack on the Dardanelles.

On the western front the French statement of the day indicates armies of that nation have been chiefly occupied in repulsing German attacks.

Both armies along the Austro-Italian front are displaying more activity, although there is nothing to indicate immediate results of the fighting.

Italians claim a favorable outcome from actions in the Trentino district and the repulse of Austrian attacks along the Isonzo.

The activity of the Austro-German forces in the east indicates a continued purpose to clear the way for an attack on Warsaw.

London, July 1.—(11:50 a. m.)—While the Austro-German armies continue to push the Russians back over the Galician border into their own territory, rumors are rife in London of contemplated offensives by the entente allies.

The French are credited with the intention of making a formidable attack on account of the enormous expenditure of artillery ammunition to the north of Arras, where a persistent borbardment has been kept up for the last fortnight; while the Anglo-French forces on the Gallipoli peninsula are said to be on the point of making a supreme effort to capture the massive hill of Achi Baba, which dominates all the country south of the narrows of the Dardanelles. The recent gains claimed by the British and French on the southern end of the peninsula are considered important because they indicate an approach to the hill on three sides.

Where Germans Make Progress.

On the eastern front every change leaves Warsaw, the capital of Russian Poland, more open to the drive which the Germans and Austro-Hungarians

DR. GEORGE J. STUDER IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Well Known Young Physician Had Long Been in Impaired Health.

Dr. George J. Studer, aged thirty-one and widely known as one of Fort Wayne's most successful young physicians, died shortly after midnight Wednesday night at his home, 1011 Hanna street, following a long illness.

DR. GEORGE J. STUDER.

Nephritis was the cause of death. Dr. Studer first was taken seriously ill three years ago, and although he had been at the point of death several times since, had been able to be about the greater part of the time until very recently.

George J. Studer was born in this city November 22, 1883, and was educated in the St. Mary's Catholic schools, from which he was graduated. He then entered St. Joseph's college and after a course

CIVIC FORUM MEETS ON FRIDAY EVENING

The next meeting of the Fort Wayne Civic forum will be held Friday evening, July 2, in the assembly room of the South Wayne public school, at which time the subject for discussion will be, "What is the Issue in Indiana Politics?" This question was touched upon in the discussion at last Sunday's meeting of the Civic forum, but will be handled exhaustively Friday night. Former County Superintendent Flavius J. Young, Attorneys Glenn A. Smiley and Avery M. Graves will lead the discussion. James A. Lechler, Persa R. Bell, S. B. Jackson and Ross F. Lockridge will also speak upon the question. Prof. F. M. Price, principal of the Hoagland public school, will preside at the meeting. Hereafter the Civic forum will regularly hold its meetings on Friday night. There is increasing interest in the popular discussions under auspices of the organization. The public is welcomed to its meetings.

URGE MASSES TO VIOLENCE

Zapata Officers Accused in Latest Dispatches from Mexico City.

NEAR A STATE OF ANARCHY PREVAILS

Washington Concerned Over Safety of 20,000 Foreigners There.

Washington, July 1.—Officers of the Zapata forces in Mexico City, disregarding orders of the convention government nominally in control there, are charged with inciting the masses to violence in dispatches carried from the Mexican capital June 25 to Vera Cruz by courier and cabled today to the state department.

The insubordination of "some of Zapata's officers" is rendering the situation more acute, according to the dispatches. No prospect of relief for the starving civil population of Mexico City is held out in dispatches. It is declared that until the railroad to Vera Cruz is reopened there can be no abatement of the suffering. The convention officials, it is stated, "claim to have repulsed" the Carranza forces under Gen. Gonzales.

In Remote Suburbs.

Apparently whatever fighting has taken place around the city has been in the more remote suburbs, at such distance from the residence and business sections that no definite knowledge of the results has come to the foreigners in the city, who probably do not venture into the fighting zone. Today's report was the most recent word from Mexico City from any source. What may have happened in the meantime no one here can conjecture.

There has been no report of the occupation of the city by Carranza troops, although rolling stock at Vera Cruz has been pressed into military service and a large shipment of relief supplies of the American Red Cross for Pachuca has been held up for lack of cars. Reports

GATES ARE LOCKED IN BIG CHICAGO PLANTS

Chicago, July 1.—Gates were locked in Chicago's largest brick and lumber plants today as a result of a general shut down in the building material interests. The plants will not be reopened, it was declared, until the 15,000 striking carpenters reach an agreement with the building contractors. It was estimated 200,000 men would be thrown out of employment by the shut down.

Fires were withdrawn from sixty-five brick making establishments and forty-three of the largest lumber yards were closed. The situation, it was estimated, will mean an economic loss to the people of the city of $500,000 a day.

BIG RUSH TO PAY THE SPECIAL TAXES

Those Who Failed to Settle Wednesday Will Be Penalized.

The usual last hour rush of income and special taxpayers swooped down on the employes of the United States revenue office Wednesday and poured money into the coffers of the government.

However, the rush was not nearly so heavy as it has been in the past.

"The people are becoming educated to this thing," says Deputy Collector Thomas J. McLaughlin. "They realize that they must pay this income tax and these special taxes, so they come early and pay them. This relieves our office of a great deal of eleventh hour work. Everyone should understand that they will be greatly benefiting us if they would come around before the last half hour to pay these taxes. The tax is small and every honest individual or corporation pays them cheerfully."

Virtually all of the doctors have paid the special taxes and have registered under the drug act. Theaters, saloons, billiard and pool halls, tobacco dealers and other persons who are subject to the special taxes were paying the government at a lively rate, while all week the business has been heavier than usual. Those who did not pay their income tax Wednesday are now delinquent and will be penalized by the government.

BECKER IS GIVEN A TEN-DAYS REPRIEVE

But Governor Whitman Says That is as Far as He Will Go in Case.

Albany, N. Y., July 1.—Gov. Whitman today granted Charles Becker, the former New York police lieutenant under sentence of death, a reprieve until July 26. The governor said that he would take no further action in the case than the granting of the reprieve. This means that if the United States supreme court does not interfere Becker will have to die.

Martin T. Manton, Becker's attorney, who obtained the reprieve, said that an appeal probably would be taken to the United States supreme court. No statement was forthcoming from the executive chamber as to why the reprieve was granted but it was said the governor would make a statement later.

Becker's execution was set for the week beginning July 12, his reprieve therefore is for ten days.

State May Ask Court for Body Writ to Compel Attendance.

New York, July 1.—If Evelyn Nesbit Thaw refuses to obey the subpoena summoning her to testify as a state's witness at the trial to test her husband's sanity, as reported from Malone, N. Y., the attorney general's office will apply to the court for a body writ of attachment to compel her attendance.

This statement was made today at the attorney general's office where the report that Mrs. Thaw had said she would refuse to obey the subpoena served upon her at Chateaugay lake was confirmed. Her excuse that the strain of appearing on the stand would endanger her health will not be considered, it was said, unless put forward in a legal manner.

It was expected that the application for the writ will lead to the taking of formal steps to determine whether Mrs. Thaw's health would in fact be endangered.

RAY CONTEMPT CASE DEFERRED TO JULY 9

Indianapolis, July 1.—Hearing of the contempt proceedings against George M. Ray, editor and publisher of a weekly newspaper, was postponed today until July 9. Ray was cited last Monday to appear in the criminal court by Judge Collins and show cause why he should not be found guilty of contempt of the court and the Marion county grand jury.

The charge grew out of an editorial in Ray's paper which Prosecutor Alvah Rucker contends was in direct contempt of the court and jury, as he says it disparaged the action of the jury in indicting 128 citizens for alleged election frauds.

IS TOLD OF BEREAVEMENT

Mrs. Gooley's Pastor Relates Fate of Son and Husband.

SURVIVORS DO NOT BELIEVE IT MURDER

Mother and Daughters Are Recovering from Gas and Will Live.

Mrs. Mary Gooley, widow of Matt Gooley, who killed himself and his 14-year-old son, Donald, and tried to wipe out the balance of the family by turning on the gas at his home, 1820 Weisser Park avenue, Tuesday night, has just been told of her bereavement. Mrs. Gooley is much improved and her recovery now is almost certain, but her physician and the nurses at St. Joseph hospital decided to withhold from her the information that her husband and son are dead until she was better able to bear the ordeal, and she was not informed of their deaths until Thursday afternoon, when her pastor, Rev. A. K. Zartman, of Grace Reformed church, broke the news to her.

Hazel Gooley, at St. Joseph's, and Loretta Gooley, at Hope hospital, are making rapid progress to complete recovery from the partial and almost fatal asphyxiation by gas that took the lives of father and brother and came near killing themselves and their mother.

GETS POSTPONEMENT IN HUERTA'S CASE

Government Needs More Time to Collect Evidence and Witnesses.

El Paso, Texas, July 1.—The case against Victoriano Huerta, Pasquel Orozco and four others charged with conspiracy to violate the United States neutrality laws, was postponed today to July 12. The defendants were continued under the same bonds.

The postponement was granted on request of attorneys for the prosecution. R. E. Crawford, assistant United States district attorney, stated that the government had been unable to collect and arrange all its evidence or bring important witnesses into court.

Counsel for the defense agreed to the government's request and briefly explained the status to the defendants, who quietly left the court room. This agreement was reached shortly before the hour set for the hearing. The spectators filed out of the court room and the crowd that surrounded the federal building, unable to gain admittance, dispersed rapidly.

For weeks government officials here have been cognizant of activity among refugees on this side of the border. Supplies of machine guns, rifles and ammunition, said to have been assembled in connection with the new government, had been kept under surveillance.

Speculation has been rife along the border as to what affect the arrest of Huerta and his co-defendants would have on the new revolutionary movement.

GERMANS SEEKING TO CLEAR WAY TO WARSAW

London, July 1.—The Russian lines are still being swung back in northern Galicia and southern Poland in an apparent effort by the Teutonic allies to clear the way for a determined move on Warsaw.

The Russians admit a continuation of the enemy offensive between the Bug and the Vieprz. At the junction of the latter river with the Vistula in Poland lies Ivangorod, which Russian observers believe is the immediate objective of the Austro-German forces in this region. Ivangorod is little more than fifty miles southeast from the Polish capital.

Just at present the chief Russian holding power seems to be along the line of the western Bug and the Gnila Lipa in Galicia.

Petrograd also records a repulse of an attempt by the Teutons to cross the Dniester near Halicz, indicating that the line of the Dniester south of that place is still well held by the Grand Duke Nicholas' forces.

A German attack by water on Windau in Courland, on the Baltic just south of the gulf of Riga, was repulsed by the Russians, their official statement says. Five cruisers and many torpedo boats participated in the attack and an attempt is declared to have been made to land troops. One of the torpedo boats was blown up before the fleet retired.

Eyes are being turned toward the Gallipoli peninsula, from which stirring news has recently come, and there are hints from the side of the entente allies that successes just reported are to be followed by still more determined attempts to carry dominating Turkish positions.

The British bark Thistle Bank, which sailed from Bahia Blanca, Argentina, April 26, with a cargo of wheat for Queenstown, was torpedoed by a German submarine yesterday at a point off Fastnet, Ireland. Some of the crew were landed at Baltimore, a small seaport, forty-seven miles southwest of Cork.

The Thistle Bank was a four-masted bark, built at Glasgow in 1891. She was of 2,430 gross tonnage.

Are Sandwiched Together.

A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says:

"Field Marshal von Mackensen's German army, on its northern adventure from Galicia is flanked by Austrian forces under Archduke Joseph Ferdinand and Gen. von Boehm-Ermolli. Everywhere in Galicia German and Austrian troops were sandwiched together, the Austrians within easy reach of German support.

"The first objective of the Teutonic advance between the Vistula and the Bug is Ivangorod by way of Lublin, Brest and Litovsk. A turning movement also is expected east of Brest and Litovsk by way of Kovel."

Ivangorod is at the confluence of the Vistula and the Vieprz. With Novo Gorgiewsk, Brest and Litovsk it forms an important triangle of the Russian forces in Poland.

CAN'T FIND A SICK BABY IN THE CITY

Opening of Church Milk Depot Has Therefore Been Postponed.

Because not a single case of serious baby sickness in the entire city has been discovered by the board of health, the First Presbyterian church milk depot, which was to have been opened today, will not open till some time later, probably next week.

After an exhaustive effort to locate sick babies who would benefit by the clean milk bottled under sanitary conditions and prepared especially for infants, the board of health and the church board have decided to await more urgent necessity before beginning the distribution this year.

CHINA ANXIOUS TO TANGO AND MAXIXE

New York, July 1.—China may import the maxixe, the tango and the fox trot from America as the result of the visit here of the Chinese industrial commission. The Chinese are willing to take dancing lessons from America, according to G. Geo, an attache of the commission, who is still in the city. Mr. Geo, who is interested in amusement enterprises in China, said that he had been greatly impressed by the American dances.

"There is a fine opening for the installation of dancing classes, dancing clubs and dancing restaurants and roof gardens in China," said Mr. Geo. "Particularly in Shanghai and Peking would there be an excellent opportunity for dancing. The revolution has liberalized China. Chinese women could now patronize the dance halls as freely as their American sisters. Their feet are now unbound and there would be no obstacle to our women learning the dances."

Since the first of January there have been ninety-four applicants for enlistment in Uncle Sam's navy at the Fort Wayne recruiting station in the federal building, and of this number only a small per cent. was accepted. Only one applicant was accepted during the month of June at the local station and he was rejected at Indianapolis. The United States navy is now 600 below the complement.

In a letter received from Officer Comfort, in charge of the various navy recruiting stations in Indiana by Ensign Flinn, who is in charge of the local office, he writes that at least two recruits should be secured out of Fort Wayne every week. Flinn is planning for an extensive advertising campaign in which he will attempt to portray to the youthful minds of Fort Wayne the many pleasures that are to be derived as one of Uncle Sam's sailors and the splendid opportunity the navy affords to see the world.

DEATH SENTENCE FOR SLAYER OF 3 WIVES

London, July 1.—(3:14 p. m.)—A verdict of guilty was brought in by the jury today in the case of George Joseph Smith, who was charged with the murder of three of his wives.

It had been alleged by the crown that Smith had killed his wives while they were in their baths and had collected insurance money on their lives.

Smith was sentenced to death.

"You will hang me before you're done my lord," was Smith's excited outburst while Justice Scrutton was summing up the case. The prisoner quickly followed this with: "You cannot hang me for murder; I've done no murder. This is a disgrace to a Christian country."

C. M. McConnell, a representative of the Indiana stallion enrollment board, has been spending a portion of the week in Allen county.

The meeting will be attended by representatives of the canal committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce, lake shippers and western manufacturers. Mr. Randall will also attend. The meeting will probably be the last to be held before the army board makes its report.

THEY NEED NOT SERVE UNDER FOREIGN FLAG

State Department Rules as to Children of Naturalized Americans.

Washington, July 1.—Children born on American soil, whose parents have become naturalized American citizens, cannot be classed as possessing dual nationality, and are not considered liable to military service under a foreign flag, the state department made clear in a statement issued today.

"While the United States always has recognized," the department says, "the existence of dual nationality in the case of children born in the United States of alien parents or children born in a foreign country of American parents, it does not concede that dual nationality exists in case of a foreign born parent who has acquired naturalization as a United States citizen."

While the state department extends whatever protection it can to persons of dual nationality, who enter the country by which they are claimed, it does not assure them immunity from military service.

"The extent to which this government may go and the arguments it may use and the actual protection of persons born in the United States of alien fathers and who may be molested while temporarily visiting the countries of origin of the latter, necessarily depends on the particular facts and circumstances of each case."

The statement says: "In no case in the absence of conventional arrangements can the state department assure such persons in advance that they will not be held liable under the laws of other countries concerned for the performance of military or other public service attaching to citizenship."

RECEIVER IS ASKED FOR MINUET THEATER

A petition asking that the Minuet Amusement company, operating the Minuet theater on Washington boulevard east, be declared bankrupt and that a receiver be appointed has been filed in the United States court by John O. Brown, the Protective Electrical Supply company and Jacob Klett & Sons.

The petition sets forth that the Minuet Amusement company admitted itself to be insolvent by its answer filed in an action brought by Heywood Brothers and Wakefield company, now pending in the superior court of Allen county.

The petition also alleges that the company is indebted in excess of $3,000, the indebtedness to the petitioners being as follows: John O. Brown, $344.19; Protective Electrical Supply company, $142.88; Jacob Klett & Sons, $400.39. It is alleged that since June 18, 1915, the business of the company has been conducted at a net loss of $100.

REVENUE RECEIPTS HEAVIEST IN YEARS

According to the annual report of E. E. Thumma, deputy revenue collector, the total receipts of his office during the past twelve months amounted to $367,590.57, which is a big increase over last year.

The receipts for the fiscal year from July 1, 1914, to June 30, 1915, are as follows: July, $32,411.47; August, $28,126.93; September, $25,634.25; October, $25,393.27; November $20,480.26; December, $32,475.65; January, $28,177.07; February, $23,965.17; March, $33,027.49; April, $37,593.19; May, $38,293.11; June, $42,015.61.

It will be seen by the above figures that more money was taken in by Collector Thumma during the month of June than during any other month of the year. The figures do not include the collections made by Deputy Collector Thomas J. McLaughlin. Mr. Thumma collects the tax upon tobacco, beer, cigars and all other goods upon which a special assessment is made, while Mr. McLaughlin looks after all the other various taxes, including the income tax.

Mrs. Thaw, it became known today, told William J. McGuire, the state's process server, that she was in poor health and feared for her life should she be compelled to undergo the ordeal on the witness stand to which she thought she would be subjected in cross-examination by Thaw's counsel. She said that she would furnish a doctor's certificate if required to do so by the court.

FARMER CHARGES SLANDER.

Bluffton, Ind., July 1.—Walter Knupp, a farmer living in Union township, Wells county, today filed suit in the circuit court here against one of his neighbors, William E. Haflich, demanding damages in the sum of $5,000, basing his claim upon an allegation of malicious slander.

The complaint recites that in the barnyard of the plaintiff, in Union township, on Tuesday, June 29th, in the presence of Henry Bower and Delsie Knupp, the defendant Haflich falsely and maliciously spoke concerning the plaintiff, alleging that he would steal.

TO TRY DUBOIS JULY 12.

Bluffton, Ind., July 1.—Judge W. H. Eichhorn has announced that at an adjourned session of the circuit court, July 12th, there will be opportunity for arraignment of Clyde Dubois, the chicken thief, who escaped and was recaptured, and Butler Ambers, charged with stealing chickens from Richard Snow. Grant Comerford, partner of Dubois, after being recaptured, plead guilty and got a prison sentence. Prosecutor Decker has received a letter from Mrs. Mary Monno, of Norwalk, Ohio, asking for information from Dubois, saying she had been unable to get reply to letters she had written to him. "I am his mother and aunt both," she write. She asked if he needs a lawyer.

LONG FIGHT FOR ESTATE ENDS.

Huntington, Ind., July 1.—The long fight waged by Mrs. Florence Van Arsdol, of Fairmount, Ind., to establish her claim to an estate of $15,000 left her by her father, Peter Anderson, was ended last night when Judge S. E. Cook overruled a motion for a new trial demanded by the estate's attorneys. Judge Cook heard additional evidence in the case yesterday but after the arguments had been given, he announced from the bench that Mrs. Van Arsdol is the sole and only heir of the eccentric Peter Anderson, who lived a dual life, and died in a railroad wreck at Marion, O., in 1906.

WHITLEY COUNTY MAN DIES.

Columbia City, Ind., July 1.—Mr. Freemont Harrison, uncle of Charles Harrison, mail clerk in this city, died at his home in Troy township of cancer of the stomach. The deceased was born in Delaware county, Ohio, March 27, 1857; and in 1861 he came with his parents to Troy township, and was the son of William Harrison and wife, deceased. Mr. Harrison was united in marriage first to Miss Wilson and the second marriage was to Laura McCloud, who survives, about twelve years ago. No children were born to this union.

COLUMBIA CITY MAN HURT.

Columbia City, Ind., July 1.—Charles Stough, who lives just at the east edge of town, was badly hurt on Wednesday when a heavy pole or wagon box fell on him, bruising him severely and perhaps injuring him internally. The left side of his face and back of his head were scratched and bleeding, but none of the cuts was of sufficient size to require stitching. The muscles and ligaments on the right side of his neck were torn loose and his right collar bone was broken. He suffered from concussion of the brain and was rendered unconscious from the blow.

HELEN UMPHRESS AT HOME.

Huntington, Ind., July 1.—Helen Umphress was brought to Huntington from the Marion county hospital yesterday in Dr. J. M. Hick's automobile. She has almost completely recovered from injuries sustained in the accident at Leonard's crossing in which her father was killed and four others injured. She suffered a concussion of the brain, and her eyes are still affected somewhat by pressure on the brain, but this will disappear before long, the physicians believe.

BABE DIES IN HER ARMS.

Albion, Ind., July 1.—While carrying her two months old babe in her arms yesterday, Mrs. Albert Dolan, of this place, noticed that the child was acting very peculiar and in a short time lay as if dead. She summoned a neighbor who, upon examination, discovered the child was dead. Coroner L. E. Berhalter, of Kendallville, was summoned and held an inquest. The child had not been ill. Its death so suddenly proved a severe shock to the mother. Death was the result of heart trouble.

NEW TRUSTEE IS NAMED.

Lagrange, Ind., July 1.—Owing to his inability to perform the duties of the office because of failing health, I. N. Smith sent in his resignation as trustee of Clearspring township to the county commissioners at their special called session. The board accepted the resignation and elected Charles Russell, a near neighbor of Mr. Smith, to fill the vacancy. Mr. Russell received two votes while one vote, that of Commissioner Nelson, who is a republican, who cast for Paul Sigler. Mr. Russell immediately filed his bond of $10,000.

MODEL MODERN FARM HOME.

Lagrange, Ind., July 1.—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Feller, two miles west of town, are now domiciled in their new farm residence, which is certainly a model in the way of modern conveniences. There are many fine, modern farm homes in Lagrange county, but it is doubtful whether any surpass the Feller residence in this respect. It is lighted by electricity, heated by furnace, has hard and soft water, both warm and cold, on every floor, which is pumped by power and supplied from air pressure tanks in the basement. It has a perfect system of sewerage, has both phones in the house and surpasses any modern residence in Lagrange in the fact that Uncle Sam delivers the mail daily at their door. The garage, barn and cow stable are also lighted by electricity.

TELLS OF CUSTER MASSACRE.

Montpelier, Ind., July 1.—"Dad" Wilder, of this city, has an interesting story to tell of the massacre of Custer and men which occurred thirty-nine years ago last Friday. Mr. Wilder states that the way the Indians knew that the scouts were coming was that a box of crackers was lost and found by an Indian who realized that the troops were going on march because they were stocked with provisions. Mr. Wilder has in his possession one of the guns used by Custer's men. It is an old Springfield musket. It was picked up on the battle ground one year after the fight, in a very rusty condition, but has been cleaned by its owner until it is in firing condition today. Mr. Wilder treasures the gun highly.

WHITE PLAGUE TAKES CHILD.

Decatur, Ind., July 1.—Doris Helen Reber, little daughter of Mr. Earl Reber, of Kirkland township, died at the parental home. The little girl was 4 years, 1 month and 9 days old. She had been sick for about four months with consumption, from which disease the mother died only last March. It is thought that her association with her mother may have caused her sickness. She is survived by the father and one sister, Celia Esther Reber.

ROBBERY AT SEDAN.

Auburn, Ind., July 1.—Breaking in a panel in a back door thieves entered the W. H. Crane general store at Sedan, one of the oldest stores in DeKalb county, and helped themselves to money, bread, cookies, tobacco and notions. They made a clean getaway. An inventory Wednesday morning showed that about ten dollars' worth of goods were taken, including about two dollars in pennies, the only money left at the store.

RACE ENTRIES ARE CLOSING.

Montpelier, Ind., July 1.—The entries for the horse races to be held here by the firemen next Monday, will close Saturday. Hal Kelley has charge of the races. Signature of Every Freeholder Invited

A prominent real estate man declared at the weekly meeting of the exchange, held at the Commercial club Tuesday, that many persons are under the impression that only those owning property in the lower sections of the city are asked to sign the flood prevention petitions. He said that such had been his belief and for that reason he did not attach his signature to the petition. When otherwise advised he indicated his intention of signing immediately, declaring that although his property is located in a part of the city that never has been visited by flood water, he is willing to bear his portion of expense necessary to protect the community from floods.

It is vitally important that the people understand that the signature of every free holder residing in the proposed flood district, which comprises the entire city of Fort Wayne and practically all of the county, is desired. It matters not whether the free holder resides in localities most accessible to flood waters or not, his signature will count as much as will that of the person whose property abuts the river bank. But while his signature will count as much in authorizing the establishment of a flood prevention district, it is obvious that his assessment will be much less when the work is done and means is provided for paying for the improvement. Many persons who until recently have opposed the movement have rallied to its support. Everybody is invited to become a booster for a greater, healthier and safer community by signing the flood prevention petitions.

DON'T BURN HAIRS OFF DISSOLVE THEM

Burning hairs off with pastes and powders is as bad as shaving them off—it only strengthens the roots and they come in thicker than ever. The only safe and sure way to get rid of unsightly hairs is to dissolve them—then you destroy the roots entirely. To do this get an ounce of simple sulfo solution from your druggist; apply with finger tips, keeping the hairs moist. In a few minutes they will be dissolved and disappear entirely. Wash with warm water and you will find the skin soft and smooth as velvet.

EVEN THE PREACHERS GET HURT

THE SEEMINGLY quiet, tranquil life of the minister of the gospel would appear to make him immune to the violent accidents which befall the rest of us.

It isn't so.

A short time ago mention was made in these columns of severe accidents sustained by Rev. H. A. Wingard, of Mitchell, Ind.; Rev. N. A. Lineweaver, of Evansville, Ind., and Rev. N. P. Patterson, of Delphi, Ind., all of whom were fortunate enough to hold accident insurance in the Fort Wayne Mercantile Accident Association, and to may be added a number of others who have been hurt during few months and to whom Wayne Mercantile Accident has paid indemnities.

Rev. Ray A. Ragsdale, of Bicknell, Ind., fell from a high step-ladder and sustained injuries which entitled him to an indemnity of $375.

Rev. Dr. Frederick Watson Hart, of Indianapolis, slipped and fell on a sidewalk, with serious results.

Rev. L. L. Hensen, of Pueblo, Col., formerly of Fort Wayne, received $150 as a result of injuries sustained by a fall.

Rev. W. A. Waldo, of Paterson, N. J., was badly injured at Muncie, Ind., during a Sunday school picnic.

Rev. H. S. Morrison, of Rugby, N. D., had an arm broken while "cranking" his automobile.

Whether you are a minister or not, you need accident insurance. Call the Mercantile—2494—and get the best protection for the lowest cost. Why not do it today?

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Genesis 32:1-13.

1 And Jacob went on his way, and the angels of God met him.

2 And when Jacob saw them, he said, This is God's host; and he called the name of that place Mahanaim.

3 And Jacob sent messengers before him to Esau his brother unto the land of Seir, the country of Edom.

4 And he commanded them, saying, Thus shall ye speak unto my lord Esau; Thy servant Jacob saith thus, I have sojourned with Laban, and stayed there until now;

5 And I have oxen, and asses, flocks, and menservants, and womenservants; and I have sent to tell my lord, that I may find grace in thy sight.

6 And the messengers returned to Jacob, saying, We came to thy brother Esau, and, also he cometh to meet thee, and four hundred men with him.

7 Then Jacob was greatly afraid and distressed; and he divided the people that was with him, and the flocks, and herds, and the camels, into two bands;

8 And said, if Esau come to the one company, and smite it, then the other company which is left shall escape.

9 And Jacob said, O God of my father Abraham, and God of my father Isaac, the Lord which saidst unto me, Return unto thy country, and to thy kindred, and I will deal well with thee;

10 I am not worthy of the least of all the mercies, and of all the truth, which thou hast shewed unto thy servant; for with my staff I passed over this Jordan; and now I am become two bands.

11 Deliver me, I pray thee, from the hand of my brother, from the hand of Esau; for I fear him, lest he will come and smite me, and the mother with the children.

12 And thou saidst, I will surely do thee good, and make thy seed as the sand of the sea, which cannot be numbered for multitude.

13 And he lodged there that same night; and took of that which came to his hand a present for Esau his brother;

Fifteen men have been placed under arrest at Shelbyville on the rather uncommon charge of rout, which, we take it, narrowly misses the more familiar charge of rioting. A resort to the dictionary discloses that in a legal sense the rout is "a disturbance of the peace by persons assembled together to do a thing which, if executed, would make them rioters, and actually making a motion toward the execution thereof."

The trouble followed the attempt to arrest a Noblesville citizen on charges of profanity, and accounts say that a crowd of friends of the accused man surrounded the police officer, handled him roughly and attempted to hamper him in the discharge of his sworn duty, while halting short of what might be termed actual violence. It was apparently demonstrative threat rather than actual physical performance that constituted offense in the case, and yet it is difficult to draw a line of distinction between the rout and the riot so far as either its intent or its moral consequence is concerned. The accused men are seeking bond for a hearing which has been deferred to July 8 in the mayor's court at Noblesville.

The only phases of the case that is of more than local interest is the presence of the mob spirit that has happily never been frequent and never popular in Indiana. In a state that has an unusually fine record for orderliness and peaceful compliance with law, demonstrations like that at Shelbyville in which a crowd of near-rioters attempt to intervene against the performance of duty by officers of the law call for prompt and effective redress. Whether the offense consisted of rout or riot, it is important that those who may be found guilty be made to understand that that sort of thing is not in good odor in Indiana.

Extended moralizing on the case of Matt Gooley is quite unnecessary. The tragic emphasis of the case must strike home to every thinking person. Evidence all points definitely to the fact that, liquor-crazed after a protracted debauch, the man deliberately set about to take not only his own life, but to wipe out the wife and children who after all had been the chief sufferers from the father's indulgence in drink. It is apparently never difficult for a man of this character to obtain liquor. Somebody conscienceless enough to supply it in defiance of both law and common decency and humanity is always to be found. And about how many hundreds of "dry" votes do you suppose have been recruited in Fort Wayne as a result of the Weisser Park avenue tragedy?

Nine Indiana cities which are still enjoying the use of natural gas supplied from the West Virginia field have consented to an advance in gas rates upon the showing of the company which supplies it that it is doing business at a loss. Without becoming too specific, we think we could name still other Indiana cities that would not be inclined to quibble so strenuously over the question of rates if they were yet able to secure the abundance of natural gas which they once wasted in the most shamelessly profligate fashion.

The weather bureau has already sent out a prediction of fair skies generally over the country for the Fourth of July holiday next Monday. It is to be observed, also, that the prediction is sent out in ample time to permit of a revision of the forecast if unexpected developments seem to make it worth while. The weather man is always diplomatic chap.

Evansville business man was fined $1 and costs in the city spanking his sixteen-year-old daughter because she went skating rink with a beau in defiance of the fact that he had forbidden her to do so. The court's ruling is not, however, to be construed as a ruling that a good many of the sixteen-year-olds do not richly merit the spanking.

The American people are most cordial in their well-wishes for James M. Thompson and his bride, who is the accomplished daughter of Speaker Clark, but they may be excused for breathing a sigh of relief now that the wedding is over. The public made as much fuss over the nuptial event at Honey Shuck as over launching a battleship.

Of course it was to have been expected that new methods in warfare would develop at least one new disease, and it has arrived. "War shock" is what the doctors call it, but as a matter of fact the volunteers of 1861-1865 doubtless experienced much the same thing but without the rather impressive title that now distinguishes it.

THE AGE OF CAPACITY.

(Pittsburgh Dispatch.)

It may well be believed that Dr. Lowell, president of Harvard university, spoke reasonably exact truth when, as a scientist, he stated in his baccalaureate address that man's physical maximum is reached at about twenty years of age, and his mental maximum at about twenty-five, for this harmonizes with unprofessional observation. But he is not understood as meaning that capacity to endure, and to learn and achieve, reaches its maximum at the times stated.

Experience and education may and do enable one to accomplish more intellectually at the age of forty, fifty or sixty than at twenty-five, but, according to Dr. Lowell, his actual capacity is not then greater than at twenty-five. He may not accomplish as much at twenty-five as he will at sixty, or seventy, or even a later period, because he does not know as much. After twenty-five it is not a question of capacity, but of knowledge and experience added to a capacity that is no longer susceptible of further development.

There is a great deal more satisfaction in this theory to men of accumulating years, than the statement of Dr. Osler, that sixty is the practical limit of usefulness, after which comparatively few men, in his judgment, so far as service is concerned, are of much account. But this is disproved by the vast number of sexagenarians who are doing their daily stunts just as effectively and satisfactorily as men anywhere below that age.

Dr. Lowell does not fix any limit to efficiency and achievement within the reach of capacities that attain their fullest physical and mental development at the ages stated. In other words, about the time a young men is graduated from Harvard he is as fit mentally as he ever will be to cope with the obstacles of life. It is the training he gets there that equips him best to carry forward the purpose of his future. But he inevitably meets many capable men of little school training who are his equals and often his betters in the qualities of mind that lead to achievement.

HEAT VALUE OF COAL.

(Dayton Daily News.)

The United States government was a little slower than many of our manufacturing concerns in learning to buy coal by heat units rather than by gross weight. But it finally caught on, with the result that a saving of some two hundred thousand dollars was effected last year. It is now out with a belated bulletin to the effect that that is the proper way to purchase fuel.

Pigs may be pigs, as the humorist declared some years ago in his entertaining little story of the expressman and the guinea pigs, but coal isn't coal; some of it isn't, at any rate. And any fuel is valuable only to the extent that it produces heat. So it was not strange that in these days of competition men should have employed chemists to determine the number of heat units in a given amount of fuel, and to pay for the mass upon the basis of the heat value rather than according to its weight. When the householder learns to do the same thing, and when the coal dealers show the consumer the advantage of doing so, it will be better for all concerned.

WORK DONE BY COUNTY AGENT

C. Henry Makes First Annual Report to Purdue University.

Much Good Has Been Accomplished During the First Year.

Clarence Henry, county agricultural agent, Thursday sent to the extension department of Purdue university, his first annual report showing the work that has been accomplished in Allen county, from September 1, 1914, to June 30, 1915. The report in full is as follows:

Teachers' Institutes.

My first week in the county was spent at the annual Allen county teachers' institute. I addressed that body on two occasions. The following week I addressed each of the four preliminary institutes. Three sectional institutes were addressed during the winter. Attendance at these nine meetings, 1,230.

Farmers' Institutes.

Ten farmers' institutes were held in the county during January and February. I attended and addressed all but one of these, which unavoidable circumstances prevented me from attending. At these meetings I talked on the following subjects: Opportunities in Live Stock (3); Beef Production Costs (1); Building Up the Dairy Herd (2); Corn Production (1); Care and Feeding of Hogs (3); Good Roads (1).

In addition to the work in this county I addressed the Jackson township farmers' institute, Huntington county, held at Roanoke, on the duties of a county agent.

I was fortunate in securing George V. Kell, Allen county's pioneer alfalfa grower, for eight of our ten institutes. Much of the interest in alfalfa in our county is due to the efforts of Mr. Kell. Attendance at institute meetings addressed, 2,330.

Community Organizations.

Adams, Jefferson, Washington, St. Joseph, Perry, Maumee, Madison, Scipio, Wayne, Lake and Aboite townships have active farmers' clubs. Of these, five were organized through my efforts. Regular meetings were held last winter in four other communities, which are now ready for organization.

Boys' and Girls' Club Work.

Four boys' and girls' clubs have been organized in the county. Poultry club, pig club, corn club and bread-baking clubs. The last named was organized by Miss Lelia Geddis, of Purdue university, and its membership is confined to the New Haven high school. In organizing these clubs thirty-seven schools were visited and over 200 letters written.

Purdue Short Course.

Heretofore the attendance from Allen county at the annual farmers' short course at Purdue university has been from two to four persons. Many of our men had no first-hand knowledge of the good work Purdue was doing for the agriculture of our state, and did not realize that Purdue could be of so much benefit to them individually. I got up a little excursion last winter to attend the short course. Fifty-two attended, every one of whom returned feeling amply repaid. These men will each help boost the excursion for next winter.

Corn Production.

Last fall seed corn selection meetings were held in eighteen of the twenty townships of the county. These meetings were held in the field. Breeding, selection, storing, testing, etc., were emphasized. Attendance at eighteen seed corn meetings, 878.

This spring eight corn production meetings were held. Attendance at these meetings, 201.

This spring I organized a men's five-acre corn club with twenty-six members.

Oat Production.

Allen county is the second oat producing county in the state, producing about 60,000 acres annually. Oat smut was prevalent over almost the entire area. In February and March I conducted an oat production campaign in which the formaldehyde treatment for smut was emphasized. Twenty-one meetings were held, F. J. Pipal, of Purdue university, assisting with five of these. Attendance at these meetings, 949.

At the suggestion of the department of agricultural extension of Purdue university, I asked the druggists of the county to report the amount of formaldehyde sold this year for oats treatment, and the amount sold in 1914. The results of this canvass showed that 126 1-8 gallons had been sold in 1915, and 16 1-8 gallons in 1914. One pint of formaldehyde is sufficient to treat seventy-five bushels of oats. The average farmer in the county sows about 20 acres of oats. It is a fair estimate, therefore, that each pint of formaldehyde treated forty bushels of seed. This makes a total of 40,360 bushels treated, as compared with 5,160 last year.

Orchard Management.

Allen county ranks second in the state in the number of bearing apple trees. San Jose scale and other diseases have been doing a vast amount of damage. In order to further proper methods in orchard management five spraying and pruning demonstrations were held in the county, F. T. Odell, of Purdue university, assisting with three of these. Attendance at demonstrations, 150.

Six additional meetings were held to discuss problems relating to care and management of orchards.

Co-operative Demonstrations.

In order to place the work more directly before the people of our county, forty-five field demonstrations are being carried on with farmers. These demonstrations consist in working out better practices under actual farm conditions, with the direction of the county agent. The number and kind of demonstrations are listed below:

Oat smut control, 20; fertilization of oats, 5; alfalfa production, 5; alfalfa fertilization, 1; lime for alfalfa, 1; corn breeding 2; corn fertilization, 3; corn and soy beans for silage, 1; comparison of feeding value of corn and soy bean silage, with corn silage, 1; demonstration orchard, 1; dynamite before setting apple trees in clay soil, 1; farm poultry demonstration (under direction of Purdue), 1; dairy management, 2.

Alfalfa Demonstration Tour.

In order to acquaint as many farmers as possible with the methods and practices followed by some of our most successful alfalfa growers, a two days' automobile tour was conducted on May 26 and 27. An evening meeting was held at the close of the first day. Eight alfalfa fields were visited on each day, and all of the practices in connection with each field were studied at first hand. T. A. Coleman, of Purdue university, was with us to lead in discussions on the first day, and J. P. Prigg, sent out by Purdue, on the second day. On May 26 there were thirty-four automobiles and 146 people with us, and twenty-four automobiles and ninety-six men on May 27. Seedsmen have already sold four times as much alfalfa seed as in 1914.

Silo Demonstration Tour.

Allen county farmers are just beginning to appreciate the value of silos in feeding. A two days' tour of the county was made to study different types of silos and feeding methods. The following types were visited: Monolithic concrete, cement slab, triple wall wood, wood stave and clay tile. Twenty-three automobiles carrying eighty-five people attended the first day, and seventeen automobiles with sixty men the second day. An evening meeting was held at the close of the first day. J. W. Schwab, of Purdue university, was with us both days to lead discussions.

In both the silo and the alfalfa tours the men attending received first-hand information that would take years of experience for them to acquire.

Hog Production.

Hog cholera was prevalent in four districts of the county last fall. Statistics which I gathered last winter showed the loss to be about $25,000 for the county. Upon a request to Purdue university, Dr. Paul A. Mollan was sent to assist in educational work in stopping the spread of this disease, and thus prevent new outbreaks. Seven vaccination demonstrations, three evening lectures, and one post-mortem were held. I did considerable placarding of farms with hog cholera warnings, made numerous post-mortems on farms, and spread the education concerning hog cholera in every way possible. This spring Dr. C. G. Starr, of Purdue university, assisted at a hog production meeting with the Maumee township Farmers' club. The total attendance at these meetings was 643.

Foot and Mouth Disease.

When it was reported that the foot and mouth disease had infected the Union stock yards at Chicago, every effort was made to keep the malady out of Allen county. Early in November I looked up and visited every shipment of stock that had arrived since the danger of infection began. Later I assisted the federal and state authorities in quarantining infected districts, inspections, and explained the nature of the disease at nearly every farmers' meeting held in the county during this time.

Horse Improvement.

Although Allen county is considerably above the average of the state in quality of horses kept on the farms, and in the per cent. of pure-bred stallions used, there is still room for much improvement. Early in March Purdue university sent D. O. Thompson, secretary of the stallion enrollment board, to help with lectures on horse improvement. Five meetings were held, attendance 171.

Dairy Herd Improvement.

Allen county is admirably situated for the dairy industry, but this branch of our agriculture has been very much neglected. Since January 1, I have been instrumental in bringing into the county six pure-bred dairy bulls. I have calls for two more at the present time. I have held eighteen meetings for the discussion of dairy problems.

Farm Visits.

It is obvious that with over 8,000 farms in the county I am obliged to work with groups rather than individuals as much as possible. I have endeavored to reduce to a minimum the need for farm visits. Under this heading are included only special visits to farms to work out some definite problem that cannot be handled from the office, and is not reached by demonstrations or meetings. This does not include the hundreds of farm stops in the regular work of demonstrations, etc. Fifty-one farm calls have been answered and as many problems worked out.

Other Meetings and Activities.

Farmers' and teachers' meetings, both day and evening, have been held throughout the year. Among the subjects discussed were: Spraying of fruits, preparation of spraying materials, silos and silage, fertilizers and fertilization, farm management, improving the farm home, principles of breeding of animals, selection of the herd bull, care and management of the dairy herd, raising the calf, dairy rations, sanitary milk, costs in milk production, sanitary milk, hog management, care and management of farm poultry, how to teach agriculture in the schools, vocational work for our boys and girls.

I have met, in their various meetings, with the executive committees of the New Haven and Washington township corn shows, the Allen County Plowing association, Fort Wayne Back Yard Improvement committee, Federation of Allen County Farmers' Clubs, and the chairmen of the Allen County farmers' institutes. I have had the office equipped with a show case for ten-ear samples of corn, and have recently established a farmers' exchange.

The hearty co-operation in the work by our county superintendent of schools, our township trustees, farmers and business and professional men, together with the splendid support of the Allen county press, have been largely responsible for whatever success the work has attained.

Summary.

Evening meetings held, 74; day meetings held, 98; total meetings held, 172; average attendance at meetings, 71; total attendance at meetings, 12,209; co-operative demonstrations, 45; farm visits, 51; office calls, 892; miles traveled by automobile in county in regular discharge of duties, 8,247.

AT THE TEMPLE.

HEART-BROKEN OLD MAN.

Blosser Jennings' Depiction of Capt. Amos at Temple Realistic.

A beaten, heart-broken old man, overtaken after twenty years by the ghost of a crime of two decades agone turning his back on all he held most dear and sacred, is the tear-compelling scene in which Capt. Amos in the comedy-drama, "The Girl From Out Yonder," pays the price of a youthful escapade. Blosser Jennings as the old lighthouse keeper attains a heighth of dramatic achievement rarely encountered in stock work as he slouches down into his old chair a picture of utter dejection but determined that none shall bear the burden with him.

There is a world of homely comedy in the two characters, Ben Cooke (Maurice Jenkins) and Cousin Simonson (Miss Alama Powell), and how Ben, after proposing and being refused thirty-six times, finally makes Cousin Simonson propose herself, is the best laugh in the story.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

THE FASCINATING THEDA BARA.

Famous Delineator of "Vampire" Roles Seen at Jefferson.

"The Devil's Daughter" is based upon Gabrielle d'Annunzio's most famous work, "L' Giaconda." It makes into a screen drama of tremendous power in its depiction of an evilly beautiful siren, who, like the Lama of ancient Greek mythology, is half serpent and half woman in her nature. Even if d'Annunzio had not insisted on the famed Theda Bara playing the role of the seductive heroine, the play itself would have created a profound sensation among playgoers. Miss Bara's striking and beautiful face has been called "the wickedest in the world," and in "The Devil's Daughter" she plays a character even more insinuatingly evil than in any of her other successes, which include "A Fool There Was" and "The Clemenceau Case."

The concluding attraction manifests itself in a graphic batch of the Pathe Pictorial News, and during the intermissions Jack Richards will sing sweetly.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 1.—The $35,000 special train that will transport the old Liberty Bell in unprecedented glory across America to the Panama-Pacific exposition has just been made ready here!

Next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock the train will pull out on the first lap of its eleven-day transcontinental journey, during which fifty-one stops will be made that folks along the way may view the famous symbol of our liberties!

The Liberty Bell is assuredly America's most traveled relic. This will be the ninth trip, and the longest, that it has taken since its birth in England 163 years ago! The old Liberty Bell has already traveled close to 15,000 miles; it will have covered a distance of more than 20,000 miles before it is restored next fall to its ancient resting place here in Independence Hall.

Unparalleled precautions have been taken this time to insure the safe transportation of the bell. The clapper has been removed and rests on a platform beneath the hollow where it hung for over a century and a half. Inside a steel skeleton has been fitted by five expert metallurgist. The rigid fingers of the skeleton, or "spider" as its inventor calls it, grip tightly the chipped lips of the bell which are supported by automobile jacks.

Thus mounted, the bell will make its historic journey on a gondola car, guarded by a princely retinue of city fathers, sergeants-at-arms, policemen, stewards, porters, stenographers, photographers, newspapermen and headed by Mayor Blankenberg himself.

There will be about forty persons in the party. The luxurious special train provided for this distinguished bodyguard of the Liberty Bell includes one private car, three sleepers, a baggage car, and a diner.

The total cost of the trip will be more than $35,000, which sum the citizens of Philadelphia have voted to pay from their own purses, in order that millions of Americans may this year see the bell instead of only the few thousand tourists who might come to Philadelphia to view it.

For the Liberty Bell, though historically a national relic, belongs to the city of Philadelphia and is preserved by a division of the department of public works.

Leaving Philadelphia July 5, the bell will stop for thirty minutes in Harrisburg, spend the next day in short jumps across Ohio, and reach Chicago that evening for a six-hour stay.

On July 8, the authentic anniversary of the bell's first ringing to call the people together to celebrate the signing of the Declaration of Independence, the party will be in Kansas City.

Thence the route is via Omaha, Denver, Salt Lake City, Boise, Spokane, Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, and Sacramento. The train will be due in San Francisco July 16, and the following day has been appointed "Liberty Bell Day" by the officials of the exposition. Pamphlets containing the "Story of the Bell" will be distributed at all stopping points along the route.

The escorting party will be entertained by the city of San Francisco until July 20. Thereafter, only the four husky policemen will remain to guard the bell at the exposition until its return to Philadelphia, some time in November.

The preceding junket of the Liberty Bell were to Allentown, Pa., during the revolution, when the British captured Philadelphia, to New Orleans in 1885, to Chicago in 1893, to Atlanta in 1895, to Charleston in 1902, to Boston in 1903 and to St. Louis in 1904.

Bridesmaid Gown May Do for Dancing

The bridesmaid who looked ahead to the numerous dancing parties she'll attend during the summer, planned her bridesmaid's frock so that it will do for a dance as well as a wedding.

I saw a very effective model the other day—a Fashion Art League of America design, by the way—which serves this double purpose. The new shade of gaslight green was used in chiffon and taffeta with a waist of white tulle with the green underneath forming two points in front. The girdle was of green taffeta. The skirt was made in baggy Zouave style over a plain underskirt, quite short and finished with scallops. The rope of iridescent beads fell from the waist and was caught at the edge of the overskirt with a rose ornament.

BOYLE-PIEPENBRINK WEDDING PARTY.

One of the most beautiful church weddings of the season was solemnized in St. Andrew's Catholic church on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock when Rev. G. H. Horstman officiated at the marriage of Miss Ethel M. Piepenbrink and Mr. Edward P. Boyle and celebrated the nuptial high mass. The church was tastefully decorated with palms and ferns and the bride and her maids made a lovely appearance in the delicate hues of their gowns outlined against the green of the decoration. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Fern Piepenbrink, who was maid of honor, and by Miss Rosella Fenker as bridesmaid. Little Lucile Piepenbrink was ring-bearer and Mildred Adams was flower girl. Mr. Harold Adams was best man and the groom's brother, Mr. Wilfred Boyle, was groomsman. Two other friends who acted as ushers were Messrs. Elmer Bobay and Raymond Fenker. The bride wore a beautiful gown of pussy willow satin with pearl trimmings, a veil of tulle and carried a white prayer-book and a bouquet of bride roses. The maid of honor was dressed in pale yellow crepe de meteor and the bridesmaids wore gowns of light green. The ring-bearer was dressed in pale blue and the flower maid in pink. All carried flowers to harmonize with their dresses and the effect in color was beautiful. After the solemn service the bride and groom and their attendants together with immediate relatives were served a breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Piepenbrink, of Lumbard avenue. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers. In the afternoon a large reception was given at the home of the groom's cousin, Mrs. Sam Masbaum, who lives east of the city. Many friends called on the young couple to extend congratulations and they were entertained with music and elegant refreshment. The house was bright with many flowers used in decorating the rooms. The bride and groom are to make their home for the present with Mr. Boyle's parents, who live at 2422 New Haven avenue.

from Vera Cruz said it was hoped the supplies would go forward today. If this is true a battle for possession of the city may now be in progress.

Much Concern for Foreigners.

Much concern is felt for the safety of the 20,000 or more foreigners, including many Americans.

The situation in the Mexican capital made more dangerous for foreigners by the battling armies in the suburbs, is causing Washington officials more worry just now than any other phase of conditions in the southern republic. Mexico's newest revolution, said to have been nipped in the bud by the arrest at the border of Gen. Huerta and others and new peace moves even were overshadowed by conditions at the capital.

Border on Anarchy.

Latest reports from Mexico City which came by courier to Vera Cruz and cabled to the state department several days later say conditions bordering on anarchy prevailed there.

With the Mexican capital cut off from telegraph communication with the outside world official anxiety increased concerning the safety of foreigners there. The advices made no mention, however, of foreigners having been harmed.

The situation was laid before Secretary Lansing upon his return today.

in the declaration of London and the general rules of international law.

Causes Much Speculation.

The question of what effect chartering of the Armenian either directly or indirectly by the British government would have on the vessel's status caused much speculation today. There has been, it was said at the state department, no explicit rules concerning the treatment of chartered vessels in time of war, but from various cases in the past the general practice has been to regard vessels as part of the military or naval forces of a belligerent only when either manned by commissioned or naval officers or when the vessel is on the naval list of a belligerent.

Collectors of American ports have had orders to prevent the departure of foreign military officers on board ships transporting horses or mules from the United States and similarly clearance has been refused to all British vessels which were armed. Officials were inclined to believe that the chartering of the vessel by the British government would not affect vitally the merits of the case, because the character of the ship was that of a peaceful merchantman when it left the shores of the United States and the crew was therefore entitled to be removed to a place of safety before the ship was destroyed.

First Since Lusitania.

The case of the Armenian constitutes the first since the sinking of the Lusitania in which American lives have again been lost. The expectation here has been that Germany's reply to the last American note would make some concessions that would insure the safety of Americans on the case and especially upon passenger vessels. Comparatively little attention has been given to the case of Americans on board belligerent ships which carried freight and contraband. The new aspects developed by the sinking of the Armenian were the subject of widespread comment since it was pointed out in various quarters that the incident was most likely to draw forth some definite expression on the attitude the United States will take concerning the association of American citizens with the carriage of contraband on ships devoted to such trade.

MADE EFFORT TO ESCAPE.

Armenian Skipper Took His Chances With German Submarine.

Avonmouth, Eng., July 1.—(12:12 p. m.)—There were eleven Americans among the nineteen members of the crew who lost their lives in the sinking of the Layland line freight steamer Armenian by the German submarine U-38, of Trevose Head, Cornwall, on Monday. Some members of the crew were killed outright when the German torpedo struck the ship.

When sunk by the German submarine the Armenian was carrying a cargo of 1,422 mules from Newport News to Avonmouth, the animals to be used by the French armies in Belgium and France. The vessel had a crew of seventy-two men and carried ninety-six men as mule tenders.

The submarine was first sighted by the man at the wheel and though the ship was pushed to the limit the mosquito craft rapidly overhauled her and commenced shelling. The Armenian's efforts to keep her stern to the submarine were futile. The faster vessel circled the freighter and the German commander, speaking through a megaphone, ordered the Armenian's captain to surrender or he would sink the ship.

The skipper of the Leyland liner struggled hard to evade the under-sea boat, but the latter dropped a shell through a skylight into the steamer's engine room, putting the engines out of action. The Armenian then surrendered. Life boats were lowered and the crew and some seventy muleteers, nearly all Americans, scrambled into them.

As one of the boats was being lowered a shell from the submarine cut the falls of the boat. The occupants were spilled into the water and presumably were drowned.

Five boats loaded with survivors got away. The submarine then fired two torpedoes into the Armenian and the vessel sank within thirty minutes. The survivors stayed with the boats until a steam trawler landed them at Avonmouth.

DR. GEO. J. STOUDER IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

at that institution entered Wabash college. In 1907 he was graduated from the medical department of Purdue university at Indianapolis.

Returning to this city shortly after he completed his education, he established a practice that soon became extensive. He was very successful and although still a young man had developed into a physician and surgeon of remarkable ability. A number of years ago, when the office of police surgeon was created here, Dr. Studer was appointed to fill the position, and held the office for several years.

He was married to Miss Florence Hughes at St. Patrick's Catholic church in this city in 1909, and the widow and one son, James Joseph Studer, survive. His father, Joseph Studer, a Nickel Plate engineer, also survives him.

Dr. Studer was an interested and active worker in his church, the Cathedral, which he joined six years ago, and was prominent in the work in other organizations with which he was affiliated.

He was a member of Fort Wayne Elks, 155, of the Knights of Columbus, 451, of the Modern Woodmen, the Medical Protective association and the Holy Name society of the Cathedral congregation.

Neither Mrs. Gooley, who has not been permitted yet to talk much, nor her daughters, who are in much better state, will express belief that the husband and father had any intention of taking any life but his own when he turned on the gas-burners of the kitchen range and sat down to permit the deadly fumes to fill the house.

Mrs. Gooley says her husband was very drunk and in an ugly mood when he came home early Tuesday evening. At first he was not admitted to the house, but finally came in and sat down by the kitchen stove, while Mrs. Gooley and Loretta sat in a front room. Donald and Hazel Gooley had gone to their chambers for the night. Directly Mrs. Gooley detected the odor of gas and going into the kitchen found her spouse huddled over the stove, of which the burner valves were open and emitting a flood of gas into the room.

Turned Off the Gas.

She turned off the burner valves as well as the main valve with the remark to her husband, "That's right; you're trying to kill yourself and all of us." Gooley was left apparently asleep in his chair by the stove and about 11 o'clock the mother and her daughter, Loretta, retired. That is the last that Mrs. Gooley could remember of Tuesday night's events. She regained consciousness at the hospital about 8 o'clock Wednesday evening and later was questioned briefly by Deputy Prosecutor Stephen A. Callahan.

Loretta Gooley stated at Hope hospital that she could not believe her father meant to destroy the whole family, though admitting that his drunkenness made him abusive and brutal and a menace to the members of the family. She was questioned Wednesday afternoon by Chief of Police Lenz, at which time she did not know of the death of her father and brother.

Inquest at 4 oO'Clock.

Coroner Edward Kruse will start the inquest at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the court house, although it may be two or three days before the surviving members ofthe family will be able to testify. The first witnesses to be called will be those living near the Gooley family.

New York, July 1.—Gustav Touchard, national indoor tennis champion, was held today in $2,000 bail for trial on a charge of stealing 24 dozen golf balls valued at $144 from a sporting goods store where he was employed as manager of a department. Touchard was arrested last night. The complainants told the court that Touchard had confessed the alleged theft and that the value of goods stolen from the firm amounted altogether to about $400. Touchard made no statement in court.

YOUNGSTOWN TAKES SECOND FROM CUBS

Yesterday's Game Was Played on Muddy Field in Rain.

Youngstown, O., July 1.—Fort Wayne held tight to its slumping streak here yesterday, dropping its second game to Youngstown. The game was played in a drizzle on a muddy field, and clever plays were few, although it required but one hour and twenty-three minutes to finish the affair.

Robbins opened the game on the mound for the visitors, and a walk, a single and a double meant two scores and Osborne went to work. But his fellow left-hander had started things wrong, and the two runs in the first beat the Cubs.

Fort Wayne made its only run in the third when Beyers hit and was forced at second by Osborne's grounder, and Sheehan singled and so did Brant, bringing the big pitcher across the plate. The Steelmen made things doubly sure in the eighth when they got another man around, bringing the final totals to 3 and 1. Score:

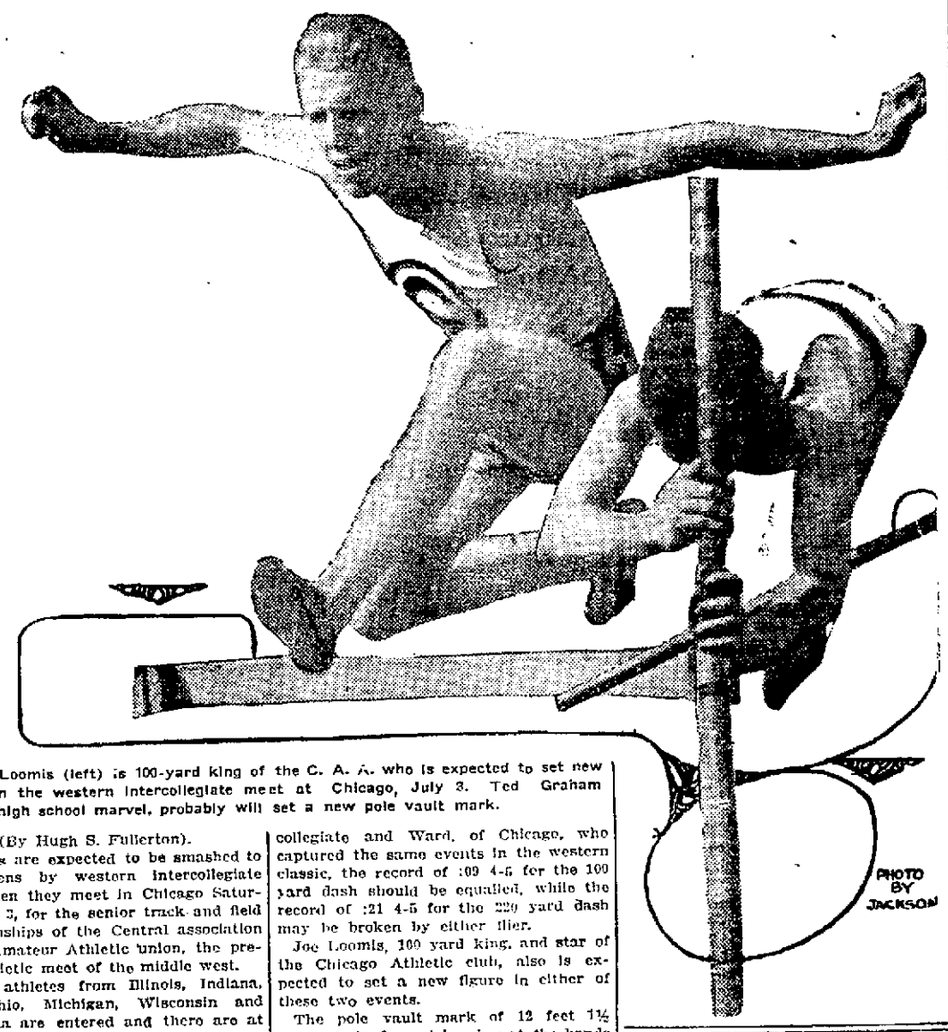
THE BENDERS CELEBRATE.

South Bend, Ind., July 1.—South Bend closed up shop at noon today and went to the ball game. The occasion was the annual booster day, staged for the benefit of the local Southern Michigan league club. The city is in gala attire, bands are playing and it was expected that league attendance records would be broken at this afternoon's game. A big automobile parade preceded the contest. South Bend yesterday clinched first place for the first of two pennant races to be staged in the Southern Michigan league. The present scramble will end on Monday and a new race will begin at once.

JOHNNY EVERS SUED.

New York, July 1.—Johnny Evers, second baseman of the Braves, has been served with papers in a $25,000 suit for damages instituted by one of the several spectators at Monday's game at the Polo grounds, with whom the Boston captain had a wordy wrangle.

ATHLETES READY TO SMASH RECORDS IN BIG WESTERN MEET.



Joe Loomis (left) is 100-yard king of the C. A. A. who is expected to set new marks in the western intercollegiate meet at Chicago, July 3. Ted Graham (right), high school marvel, probably will set a new pole vault mark.

Records are expected to be smashed to smithereens by western intercollegiate stars when they meet in Chicago Saturday July 3, for the senior track and field championships of the Central association of the Amateur Athletic union, the premier athletic meet of the middle west.

Crack athletes from Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota are entered and there are at least seven marks that probably will be lowered by these stars.

With Smith, of Michigan, winner of the century and furlong in the eastern intercollegiate and Ward, of Chicago, who captured the same events in the western classic, the record of :09 4-5 for the 100 yard dash should be equalled, while the record of :21 4-5 for the 220 yard dash may be broken by either flier.

Joe Loomis, 100 yard king, and star of the Chicago Athletic club, also is expected to set a new figure in either of these two events.

The pole vault mark of 12 feet 1½ inches is in for a trimming at the hands of Ted Graham, spectacular high school athlete, who will compete under C. A. A. colors.

FEDS DRIVE OUT INTERNATIONAL CLUB.

New York, July 1.—Members of the International league held a meeting here to act upon the request of the Newark (N. J.) club that it be temporarily transferred to Harrisburg, Pa.

The invasion of Newark by the Federal league and the consequent slump in gate receipts at the International club's park are said to be the leading reasons for consideration of the proposed transfer.

BASEBALL WAR IS COMING TO CLOSE

Judge Landis is Ready to Make Public His Decision.

Judge Kenesaw M. Landis has intimated that the long looked for baseball decision, which he has carried upon his shoulders for several months, will be forthcoming within a few days. The history of the case dates back to the first of the year when the Federals brought suit against organized baseball in an attempt to prove that baseball under the organization is a trust. In Chicago on Monday Judge Landis stated that "the delay in this case has been in the real interest of baseball" taken to mean by baseball men in general that the findings of the court will have a surprising effect on the future of the national game.

There is but little doubt that Judge Landis will recommend a discontinuance of the baseball war in the interest of the game, and it is expected that he will tender suggestions to the warring magnates which, if followed, will wipe out the baseball war entirely and give the grand old game a chance to recover from the effects which the war has had upon it.

It is said that in spite of absolute denials on the part of leading lights in both organized baseball and the Federal league there is a movement on hand which may bring the magnates together and effect a settlement that will clear up the baseball horizon. How much better would such a condition be for baseball? The army of lawyers with their volumes of evidence, long winded arguments and restraining orders have done the game no good. The spiteful work of magnates on both sides and the brazen attitude of some players and club owners alike has resulted in the shattering of the "little tin idol" before which the baseball fan once worshiped.

BUSINESS OF WAILING IN BUCKEYE LEAGUE

Newark, O., July 1.—Paul Wreath, manager and owner of the Newark Buckeye league baseball team, skipped the town yesterday, leaving $1,100 in debts behind, including the salaries of the players since June 1.

Wreath is the third manager to jump the league, leaving debts unpaid.

The Akron club is here with two days' guarantee unpaid. C. S. Buckley, president of the Findlay board of trade and ball club, has wired that he will be here today to make an effort to interest local capital, together with money that he will put into the proposition and get the club on its feet.

MADAM:—

Do your realize the inconvenience of wash day?

Do you realize how much you could accomplish if you could do away with the trouble and muss to say nothing of the weariness due to washing?

Do you realize that you can stop all of this trouble, muss, weariness and inconvenience by sending your washing to the WET WASH LAUNDRY?

Do you know that we wash the clothes, extract the water, for the minimum charge of 60c for thirty pounds and 2c a pound over thirty pounds?

This method allows you to starch the clothes to suit your particular taste and dry them in the sunlight.

Now think this over seriously, then phone 6001 and have the wagon call for your next washing.

Yours respectfully,

CHARLIE WHITE IS NEW YORK FAVORITE

New York, July 1.—Charlie White is training at Rye Beach for his match with Champion Freddie Welsh at Brighton Beach Saturday night. Charlie has the natives all "het up" by his style of battling and they're going to be there with White until the last punch is delivered.

There isn't a mother's son who ever follows the boxers at Rye Beach who isn't imbued with confidence that White will win by a knockout. He has told everyone that the Fourth of July this year will see the routing of an English champion and an American—although an adopted one—become the lightweight champion of the world. Charlie thinks that's a great bunch and really believes it will work more in his favor than his famous old New York jinx will work against him.

In This Year's Goodyear Tires

Here are amazing facts:
Goodyear Fortified Tires contain five costly features found in no other tire. They have other features not common.

If we omitted those features, this year's probable output would cost us $1,635,000 less. We could add that much to our profits. And you would never know it until troubles came.

This year's improvements alone will cost us $500,000 yearly. Most of this goes into extra rubber—all into extra wear. And we shall spend on research $100,000 this year to find other betterments still.

Users Save $5,000,000
Yet our 1915 price reduction—made February 1st—will save Goodyear users about $5,000,000 this year. And that was our third reduction in two years, totaling 45 per cent.

These extra features—used by us alone—will save users millions more.

That's why Goodyears dominate. They have long outsold any other. They are gaining new users faster than we can supply them. We hope, for your own sake, that they'll soon win you. Any dealer will supply you. (2419)

DYE SUPPLY MAY FAIL ENTIRELY

Knitting Mills Has Only Enough to Run Half Time for Six Weeks.

The rumor concerning the situation in the dye department of the Wayne Knitting Mills is exaggerated, according to a statement of one of the officials of the company this morning. The rumor was to the effect that the mills will have to close entirely on account of lack of dye material. For the past six months the dye department has been able to get only about a half supply and as a result the department was running on a half-time schedule, but the other departments are running in full blast. John A. Thieme said this morning that the shortage in dye supply is becoming worse and that unless there was improvement soon, the department would have to shut down. "But we are fixed for operating the department on the present schedule for six or seven weeks. Not all of the mills will be closed, however, and the greater portion will be operated on full time," continued Mr. Thieme. The mills will be closed Monday on account of the national holiday and on Tuesday on account of the Liberty Bell demonstration.

HONORED C. D. WHEELER.

Associates at Electric Works Give Him a Banquet.

C. D. Wheeler, who retires next Saturday from the office of advertising manager for the Fort Wayne Electric works, to take a position in the east, was the honored guest at a banquet at the Commercial club Wednesday night. The participants were chiefly the officers, heads of the departments, foremen and clerks at the big plant who wished to express their esteem for Mr. Wheeler and sorrow because the association in a business and social way which had been so pleasant for several years was about to be severed.

The menu and the program cards were in the center of an eight-page folder designed especially for the occasion. The frontal page contained a portrait of Mr. Wheeler and a number of pictures illustrative of the various products of the big plant on Broadway. Beneath the picture of Mr. Wheeler were the words, "Farewell Banquet to the Ad Man."

The decorations of the pages were the work of George Gewehn, the company's photographer. The menu read as follows: Consomme in cup, radishes, olives, one-half spring chicken, new potatoes in cream, buttered peas in timbales, stuffed tomato salad, hot rolls, vanilla ice cream with crushed strawberries, cake and coffee. On the opposite page were the names of the toastmaster and the men who responded to toasts. The list follows: "J. B. Mills, roastmaster; O. B. Rhinehart, very bad; T. W. Behan, worser; James J. Wood, worser yet; Henry Hoegmann, much worser yet; P. Z. Hazelton, ?????; Cleon DeMont Wheeler, speech and trombone solo; H. E. Crane and E. A. Wagner, end men.

Seated at the tables were the following, all associates of Mr. Wheeler in conducting the affairs of the Fort Wayne Electric works:

A. Braun, G. Gewehn, J. Hartman, F. Goetz, William Crighton, H. Hartman, E. A. Wagner, H. E. Crane, O. B. Rinehart, B. C. Evans, A. L. Hadley, P. Rapp, O. Cooper, R. H. Fitch, P. H. Hazelton, P. O. Smith, T. W. Behan, A. A. Serva, F. S. Hunting, J. J. Wood, H. J. Head, H. Herrman, C. E. Becker, J. B. Crankshaw, P. Hoppe, R. Roberts, L. C. Yapp, S. B. Kerlin, G. Bangert, F. Mills, H. F. R. Mitchell, F. G. Duryee, F. R. Dulin, August Kayser, J. Lotz, H. Granneman, J. J. Kline, C. D. Wheeler, C. I. Hall, J. E. Brobst, Alex. Wood, M. Toole.

Mr. Wheeler, as stated by the Sentinel several weeks ago, tendered his resignation, effective July 3, to take a similar position as assistant sales manager of the Santo Manufacturing company, of Philadelphia, in which several Fort Wayne people are interested and A. H. Boyd, a former employe of the Fort Wayne Electric works, is the manager. The company manufactures the Santo vacuum cleaner and does a big business.

Mr. Wheeler came here six or seven years ago, shortly after graduating from the Michigan state university at Ann Arbor, to take employment with the Fort Wayne Electric works. Soon afterwards he was advanced to the position of advertising manager, which he has held since. He is a member of the Scottish Rite, the Shriners and the Shriners' patrol. He is also prominently connected with other societies and is popularly and well known in Fort Wayne. He assumes the new duties at Philadelphia next Monday.

The Fort Wayne Union Co-operative Department store opened its doors to business this morning with twenty-five clerks and four auto-trucks. The stockholders also voted for the board of directors to unite with the Farmers' Equity exchanges of Thurman, Aboite, Arcola, Sheldon, Wallen and Convoy. The meeting last night was attended by nearly 1,000 people and among the speakers were Thomas Flynn, state organizer of the American Federation of Labor; C. M. Preble, Joseph D. Shaw, E. D. Spahr, O. NEW SUPERINTENDENT ARRIVES.

Mr. Schroll Meets Staff Officers and Others.

Otto Schroll, the new superintendent of the Western division of the Pennsylvania, came down from Toledo on the Wabash 10:35 o'clock train this morning and was soon holding an informal reception at his offices, all his staff officers and many of the heads of the departments at the offices and shops calling there to meet him. All formed favorable impression of Mr. Schroll and feel that association in railway work with him will be mutually pleasant. Mr. Schroll spent the day looking into the situation as it affects the superintendency of the division, one of the greatest and most important of the Pennsylvania west of Pittsburg.

There will be over 400 in the party and the cars they occupy will make the entire trip to San Francisco.

MOVING PICTURES TO BE TAKEN OF PARADE

A. C. W. Celebration Will Be One of the Big Events of the Year.

Moving pictures of the big parade to be given under the auspices of the Associated Christian Workers of Fort Wayne, Monday morning, July 5, will be shown in all the principal cities of the world. For that reason the committee in charge is anxious to have as many decorated automobiles as possible in order that a good showing will be made.

The following telegram was received Thursday from J. R. Johnson, manager of the Pathe Animated Weekly, which every week produces pictures of current events throughout the world showing them in all the leading moving picture theaters: "Will cover Fort Wayne July 5 if nothing unforeseen prevents."

The parade promises to rival the parade given on the day the Lincoln highway was dedicated and as a matter of fact the floats will be far more elaborate. Practically every church in the city will have a decorated float. Visiting delegations fro msurrounding cities are also planning upon having floats and will try and surpass those representing the local churches. This friendly rivalry is being encouraged by the committee in charge.

An all day celebration will be held at Foster park after the parade. George Crowe, an expert in serving big crowds, will have charge of the kitchen for the big dinner that will be served at the noon hour. Fifty members of the various Ladies' Aid societies will wait upon the tables and will be prepared to serve hot dinner to between 2,500 and 5,000 persons.

Dr. Ira Landrith, president of the Ward-Belmont college at Nashville, Tenn., and a former member of the Flying Squadron of America, and Mrs. Elizabeth Stanley, state vice president of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, will be the principal speakers. The address of welcome will be delivered by Rev. Charles Manchester, president of the Fort Wayne Ministerial association. Attorney William N. Ballou will introduce the speakers.

TO SPEND SUMMER AT HARVARD.

Dr. E. M. Van Buskirk, county health officer, will leave Saturday for Cambridge, Mass., where he will spend the summer in post-graduate work in the medical department of Harvard university.

NEW RECEIVER FOR PICTURE THEATER

Minuet Amusement Company Now in the Hands of Jess Edson.

Alfred F. Brentlinger, who was appointed receiver for the Minuet Amusement company, operating a moving picture theater in the Minuet building on East Washington street, having resigned his appointment, Judge Yaple in the superior court on Thursday appointed Jess Edson receiver and he filed his bond and has taken charge under the court's orders. The suit for the receivership was filed by Haywood Bros. & Wakefield, who had a claim against the Minuet Amusement company.

Damage Suit Settled Quickly.

Within a short time after William Hipshire, a minor, had filed through his next friend, Mae Hipshire, a suit against the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company for $65 damages for personal injuries, the case had gone to judgment in Judge Yaple's hands in the superior court, an entry for the amount claimed being made. The complaint alleged that the plaintiff boarded one of the defendant's interurban cars at stop — and by the sudden starting of the car was thrown against the railing on the platform and hurt.

Notes of the Courts.

In the superior court judgment has been given the plaintiff in the suit of David W. Rhoades, et al., vs. Henry J. Kelsey, et al., the finding holding that the plaintiff is entitled to possession of property in Lakeside, ejectment and $63.

On affidavits for a change of venue from Judge Yaple in the superior court, William C. Ryan has been appointed special judge to hear the suit of James Baysinger, et al., vs. Henry F. J. Reiter, et al.

The superior court has fixed September 2 for the hearing before a jury of the suit of Gertrude Stegner vs. the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company.

Trial of the suit of F. M. Bendell vs. S. Bash & Company has been set down for September 6 in the superior court.

In the superior court, in the case of Chester S. Adair vs. George C. and Delilah Treece in a complaint on contract for $500, the court has found for the plaintiff and ordered the receiver of property involved to be given to the plaintiff.

James W. Squires has begun suit in the superior court against Edward and Samantha Marschand to recover $4,375 on a note and to foreclose a mortgage.

The following cases have been dismissed from the superior court: Cora Moon vs. Albert Moon, Clora Sherwin vs. Alfred Sherwin, Homer Shaw vs. Rose Shaw, Milton vs. Keller and the Fort Wayne Country club.

Sues for Damages.

Suit for $260 damages for injuries to himself and his automobile has been filed in the circuit court by Clement Balsley, of South Bend, against R. M. Evans, of this city. Balsley alleges in his complaint that in September, 1914, he was driving his car along Turkey creek in St. Joseph township when Evans came along in his automobile, the two machines colliding. Balsley alleges that Evans was driving carelessly and was responsible for the accident.

NEW COUNTS IN HANNA CASE.

Sam D. Hanna, head of the defunct Hanna-Brackenridge company, has been arrested on a warrant charging two additional counts in the alleged crimes growing out of the crash of his concern two years ago, grand larceny and obtaining money under false pretense being added to forgery and perjury. He was arrested Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Herman Witte at an office in the Shoaff building. The affidavits were filed by Prosecuting Attorney Harry H. Hilkemann, and charge that Hanna obtained a loan of $860 from the German-American National bank of Fort Wayne, employing a false statement of assets to assure the bank. The other cases against Hanna have been transferred to the Wells circuit court on a change of venue. His aunt, Mrs. Eliza Hanna Hayden, furnished $1,500 bond for his release in the later cases as she had done in those preceding.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, July 1—Definite announcement that the steamship Armenian, sunk by a German submarine, was engaged in British admiralty business, had considerable effect today in strengthening the wheat market here. The news was taken by traders as tending to eliminate a disturbing question. After opening ½@⅝c lower to ¼c advance, quotations underwent a moderate dip and then rose about 1½c above last night for July and September.

The close was unsettled at a shade off to ⅝c advance compared with last night.

Corn became firm when wheat started decidedly upgrade. The opening, which ranged from the same as last night to ¼c higher, was followed by something of a sag but later by general net gain.

The close was nervous, ⅛@¼c to ⅛@⅝c above last night.

Action of oats market reflected the course of other grain. Business lacked volume.

Provisions held within a narrow range. Fluctuations and traders were both apparently without any really significance.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 1.—Latest foreign development contributed towards the heaviness which characterized today's early trading. Sinking of the steamship Armenia, involving further loss of American lives, revived fears of renewed tension with Germany. Losses of a point or more were recorded in the ealy dealings by Canadian Pacific, American Smelting and numerous specialties, while Reading, Union Pacific and Coppers lost substantial frctions. There were extensive offerings of U. S. Steel at a moderate decline.

Dealings in Rubber, Steel, American Can and Amalgamated Copper, the latter at an advance of 2½ points on the increased dividend, comprised 50 per cent. of the first hour's small business. Announcement that the rubber meeting would not be held until late in the day was followed by a temporary setback in that stock. War stocks, motors and unclassified issues rewe mostly dull. Bonds were heavy.

Prices moved more unevenly in the final hour with severe declines in low priced railways and specialties. The closing was irregular.

THE WEATHER.

OFFICIAL FORECASTS.

Forecast till 7 p. m. Friday:

For Fort Wayne and vicinity: Fair tonight and Friday.

For Indiana: Generally fair tonight and Friday, preceded by thundershowers in south portion this afternoon.

For Ohio: Partly cloudy tonight and Friday; not much change in temperature.

For Lower Michigan: Generally fair tonight and Friday.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The barometric pressure is low over the lake region and thence southeastward to the middle Atlantic coast, with lowest over eastern Pennsylvania. The pressure is also low in the extreme southwest. A high area covers the western mountain states, with highest pressure in Alberta. This distribution of pressure has given cooler weather in the Canadian northwest provinces and only moderate temperature changes in the United States. The weather has remained fair in the states to the west of the Rocky mountains and generally so in the upper lake region and southwest, but along the eastern slope of the Rocky mountains, in the Missouri valley, lower Mississippi valley, gulf states, Atlantic coast states, lower lake region and Ohio valley local showers have occurred, with heavy amounts at Boston, New York, Binghamton and Albany.

While the weather is somewhat unsettled in this vicinity, it will be generally fair tonight and Friday, with not much change in temperature.

Along the northern line the Austro-Germans appear to be experiencing the greatest success, for the Russians seem to be making a stubborn fight along the Gaila Lipa, while retreating generally between the Vistula and Bug rivers toward Lublin.

In the west both sides have attacked in the Argonne forests and beyond the Meuse hills without decisive result. The fighting of the past fortnight has been without permanent result except in the Vosges, where the French have consolidated substantial gains.

From Vienna the Italians are reported to be showing renewed energy along the Isonzo river, they having brought up more men and guns, but no decisive action is reported.

Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons this afternoon that the British naval and military losses in killed, wounded and missing in the operations against the Dardanelles up to May 31 aggregated 38,625 officers and men.

GERMAN NAVAL ATTACK FAILS.

Russians Repulse Bombardment and Effort to Land Troops.

Petrograd (Via London,) July 1.—5:56 a. m.—An attempt by German warships to bombard the port of Windau, Courtland and land troops, was repulsed by the Russians, according to an official statement issued last night at headquarters of the general staff. The communication says:

"A squadron of German ships, consisting of one patrolling cruiser, four light crlisers and many torpedo boats bombarded Windau and attempted to make a landing on the coast, but was repulsed. One of the hostile torpedo boats was blown up by a mine. Our torpedo boats engaged the enemy's cruisers. Other Russian torpedo boats, protecting these operations from the north, compelled the enemy to retire.

USES NO AMERICAN SHELLS.

Paris, July 1.—(12:15 p. m.)—With reference to an interview published in the United States in which Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria was quoted as saying that 50 per cent of the shells used by the French were manufactured in the United States, the ministry of war made to the Associated Press the following official statement:

"Neither now nor at any time since the beginning of the war has the French artillery made use of any shells whatsoever manufactured in the United States."

The French war office this afternoon issued the following report on the progress of hostilities:

"Last night passed quietly in the north in the vicinity of Arras and as far as Champagne. The German attack in the Argonne reported yesterday was particularly violent. It is estimated that the forces engaged amounted to two divisions. This attack, however, was checked. Furthermore two fresh movements against our trenches at the east on the Benarville road were repulsed.

"Another violent attack delivered by the Germans in the vicinity of Metzeral has been completely checked. The Germans suffered important losses."

HIS FATHER'S FACE AROSE BEFORE HIM

Then Young William Geerken Decided Not to End Life.

"I was down-hearted and wanted to end it all, but when I put the knife up to my throat my dead father's face rose up before me and I couldn't do it."

That was what young William Geerken, a 19-year-old youth who has been much in trouble, related in the city court, Thursday morning, when arraigned on a charge of disorderly conduct. He was arrested Wednesday night, at the residence of an uncle with whom he has been residing on Taylor street, after he had been flourishing two large-sized pocket knives. William Rhinehart, a cousin of the lad, testified that he didn't know whether young Geerken meant to kill himself or somebody else. Officer Boseker was called and he made the arrest. Young Geerken is under suspended sentence in the circuit court for larceny. Judge Kerr let him go.

New Charges Against Neireiter.

Two new charges, one of deserting his wife and the other for neglecting his children, were placed against Henry Neireiter in the city court, Thursday morning, and his bond was fixed at $250 in each case for his appearance Friday. He went to jail. Neireiter fled from the city two weeks ago and his mysterious disappearance caused a belief that he had committed suicide by jumping into the Maumee river, which later was dragged by the police. He returned to the city Wednesday and was surrendered to Sheriff Gladieux by Gordon Eby, who was surety on Neireiter's appeal bond from the city to the circuit court in an assault and battery case.

Other City Court Cases.

Jimmy Wier and Tom Smith were the principals in a dual sketch that was produced with great accompaniment of booze near the Lake Shore depot Wednesday night and were arrested by Officer Bert Smith. Each drew $1 and costs in the city court.

Lulu Slaffer, a young woman of 26, was found down and out from drink at Harrison and Columbia streets, Wednesday night, and was arrested by Officer Glen Johnson. Judge Kerr let her go.

The cases against Ed Taylor and John Luce, jr., charged with entering a house to commit a felony, were continued to Saturday. Taylor has been locked up since his arrest last week, but Luce furnished a bond and has not been seen since. The bond may be declared forfeited if he does not appear Saturday. They were arrested by Sheriff Gladieux and his deputies for attempting a hold-up at the home of Tom Covington on the Covington road. The case of Taylor presents some pathetic aspects. His aged mother is the sole support of two little grandchildren whose mother is dead and whose father has long neglected them. She takes in washings and works out by the day to earn a livelihood and says that her son Ed has always been a willing helper, remaining at work sometimes throughout the night to help with the washings.

RECOVER MERRIWETHER CAR.

The automobile belonging to James Merriwether, 1228 West Wayne street, that was stolen at 10 o'clock Wednesday night from in front of the Colonial theater at Calhoun and Washington streets, was recovered at 2 o'clock Thursday morning at Hanna and Buchanan streets by Captain Richard Kelly of the police. It had been abandoned there by the joy-riders who stole it.

HELD UP BY HOBOES.

George W. O'Connor, of Springfield, O., reports to the police that he was held up by three hoboes in the Wabash railway yards near the coal docks, Wednesday night, and robbed of $2.50 cash, his army discharge and some letters.

SLOGAN IS ADOPTED.

"Back to Indiana in 1916" Is Historical Commission Cry.

Indianapolis, July 1.—The Indiana Historical Commission, planning for next year's centennial celebration, has announced the adoption of the slogan, "Back to Indiana in 1916," as one of the first steps in making the Hoosier centennial one of the biggest observances of its kind ever held in the United States. The commission urges that every Indiana citizen help on the "Bring Back Home," for the celebration, former Indiana people who now are living in other sections.

"Indianans traveling beyond the confines of the state will act as ambassadors of Hoosier hospitality," says the commission's announcement, "and will call the prodigals homeward where 'the moonlight's fair tonight along the Wabash.'"

HAS "KINK" IN SHOULDER.

Vice President to Take Some Baths at Hot Springs.

Indianapolis, July 1—Vice President and Mrs. Marshall will depart Sunday for Hot Springs, Ark., where Mr. Marshall is to be the speaker Monday at a July Fourth celebration. The vice president may remain at the springs a few days to take some baths to relieve soreness in one of his shoulders. He has had a "kink" in one shoulder since getting drenched in a rainstorm a few days ago. He was on an automobile ride in the country when a rainstorm came up so suddenly that he was soaked before the top of the machine could be raised and the curtains adjusted.

QUIET SEA CAUSED SUBMARINE MISHAP

Curious Anamoly in Case of H-3, Now in Safety at San Francisco.

San Francisco, July 1.—United States submarine H-3, which was floated late yesterday after being wedged between the rocks near Point Sur lighthouse since Tuesday night, arrived here today. It was said the H-3 would be drydocked to determine if any damage was done to her hull.

Details of the grounding and the release of the little vessel later reveal a curious anomaly. A quiet sea was the cause of the submarine's mishap; a slightly rough sea gave it freedom.

Tuesday night Point Sur was enveloped in a dense fog. Ordinarily this would not have disturbed mariners inasmuch as the breakers that almost constantly assault the high promontory give out ample warning. But the sea that evening was so still there was not a wave to sound the peril of the rocks and the H-3, before it was aware, ran snugly between two huge boulders.

All day yesterday the submarine clung fast to its berth, despite the efforts of the tender Cheyenne to pull it out. Late in the afternoon, however, the sea began to rise. A sudden swell lifted the vessel and at the same instant the Cheyenne's line taughtened. The sudden jerk pulled the H-3 clear and threw it against another rock, turning it on its side. From the almost perpendicular decks five of the crew slid into the water. Two could not swim but ropes were tossed to them and in a few minutes all were back on board. The H-3 was quickly pulled into open water, with injuries, if any, of a minor character. When the Cheyenne, with the H-1 and the H-2, resumed the trip to San Francisco it was not the H-3 that the tender took in tow, but the H-1, which had developed a broken bearing.

ALABAMA CLAMPS ON LID.

State-Wide Prohibition Goes Into Effect Quietly.

Montgomery, Ala., July 1.—State-wide prohibition was in effect today. Every saloon and dispensary in the state was closed last night. The transition was accomplished with marked quiet and orderliness. The last few days of the saloon had developed a touch of the Bacchanalian, but reports of disorder were few and the police circles were remarkably quiet.

The saloons were closed under the provisions of the Merritt-Benson bills, enacted into law in January. The measures are almost duplicates of those enacted more than four years ago.

JUNE WAS A MONTH OF SUDDEN DEATHS

Coroner Holds Inquest Over 20 Bodies During Past Thirty Days.

The month of June which has just passed into time proved to be one filled with many accidents and many sudden deaths. During the past thirty days Coroner Edward Kruse held inquests over twenty bodies in Allen county, of which number fourteen were residents of this city. This is far above the average.

During the month there were seven accidental deaths, one murder and one suicide, in the city of Fort Wayne. Two of the seven accidental deaths were caused by electrocution; two people lost their lives by accidental gas asphyxiation; two were killed by automobiles and one by a coal wagon.

According to record kept at the city board of health office there were in all seventy-two deaths in the city in June as compared with fifty-three in the month of May. Nearly twenty-five per cent of this number were people who had reached an age of over seventy years.

Undertakers of the city are of the opinion that the number of deaths in June this year as compared with the same month in 1914 is much less. Hospital reports also show that there was less sickness this year in the past month than last year, facts which contradict the statements regarding the unhealthy weather which was experienced during June.

In the city of Fort Wayne alone, there were 125 births, exceeding the number of deaths by 53.

PEOPLE buy bargain refrigerators who would not buy bargain pianos—yet the refrigerator is far the more important of the two. A poor piano can do no more than offend your ears. A poor refrigerator may affect the health of the entire household. Odors and moisture accumulate in it; foods spoil quickly. You cannot afford to buy an ordinary refrigerator. It is almost as cheap in the beginning—and it is a good deal cheaper in the long run—to have one of the famous —the refrigerators with the patented construction that insures a constant circulation of fresh, dry air to every part of every food chamber. Any refrigerator will keep foods cold; but there is no refrigerator that will keep them fresh as long as a McCray will do it. That is why it is used by the Government—in the Capitol, in the Pure Food Laboratories, in the Congressional Library, on battleships. That is why it is used in most of the excluse clubs and fine residences throughout the country. That is why it is the refrigerator you should have in your home.

We carry McCray Refrigerators in a variety of sizes to meet every requirement—and fit every purse. All have the patented McCray construction. Will gladly explain its many points of superiority to you if you call.
